Treaty With East Germany Means End of West's Rights, He Warns

Moscow — (U) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev declared today that the western powers will lose even their rights to fly into Berlin if he signs a separate peace treaty with East Germany. And he warned the Soviet Union is prepared to meet "force with force."

Outlining the Soviet position for the summit meeting, Khrushchev repeated that "of course we shall go it alone" and sign an East German peace treaty if the western powers "ignore the issue contrary to common sense."

But he said that "the Soviet government believes that common sense will prevail."

Renounce A-Arms, DeGaulle Pleads

Tells Joint Session of Congress Plan Is 'Only Hope for Future'

Washington — (U) — French President Charles de Gaulle told the U. S. congress today that destruction of nuclear weapons "by common consent" under international supervision offers the only hope "for the future of our species."

The French leader declared that unless other powers—the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union renounce

TV Actress Hope Emerson Succumbs

Hollywood — (U) — Actress Hope Emerson, who played the TV role of "Mother" in the Peter Gunn series and "Sarge" on the Dennis O'Keefe show, died last night of a liver ailment.

The 6-foot-2, 160-pound actress had been in ill health for some time but entered a hospital only three days ago. She drove home alone April 17 from a visit to Phoenix, Ariz.

A few years ago she was nominated for an Academy Award for her role as a woman's prison matron in "Caged," one of numerous movies she made after leaving the New York stage.

Born in Hawarden, Iowa, she appeared on Broadway in "Lysistrata," "Smiling Faces," "Swing Your Lady," "Chicken Every Sunday" and "Street Scene."

Spring Changes Turn Up Many Household Needs

Most families now have finished cleaning up the yard and house in preparation for the spring and summer weather ahead.

During the transition from winter to summer living, families often find there are many things they need or they own many items which won't be used much.

The easiest and least expensive way to find what is needed is in Post-Crescent want ads. That's the place to sell second-hand things, too.

Quake Strikes Iranian City; Toll Might Reach 3,000

Volunteers Evacuated 29 Elderly patients from the burning Riverview Nursing home in Waupaca Saturday. Here, left, Mrs. Florence Tilch, 59, paralyzed from the waist down, watches the fire after being evacuated. Vernon Robbins assists his father, Raymond Robbins, 82, away from the blaze. One patient, Sam Vaughan, 83, suffocated in the smoke-filled second floor as he slept. (Other pictures on Page A-19).

Five Killed When Plane Plummets Onto Moving Car

Columbus, Ohio — (U) — A single-engine airplane plummeted onto a moving auto, killing the two occupants of the plane and three in the car in a flaming explosion yesterday.

Three other car passengers escaped death but were injured.

The accident happened as the car cruised on busy U. S. 40 about 17 miles east of downtown Columbus.

Both plane and car burned fiercely while a woman passenger in the auto, Mrs. Dorothy Vingle, 49, pulled three of the dead and injured from the vehicle.

No Cause for Alarm

U. S. Living Costs at New Record for March

Washington — (U) — The nation's living costs hit a new record in March.

The first rise in food prices in six months edged the labor department's consumer price index to a new peak of 125.7 per cent of the 1947-49 living cost average.

Average Increase

The average price increase over the February level was only one-tenth of one per cent. The March average was 1.6 per cent above the same month last year.

Mother Who Wanted To Give Child Away Has 'Wonderful Baby'

London — (U) — Mrs. Yvonne Moore, the British wife who wanted to give her unborn child to an American couple, has had a baby boy.

"He's a wonderful baby," she said. "But I still want to give him away."

The child was born in a maternity hospital Friday. He weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces.

Mrs. Moore and her bus driver husband Leo were to have flown to the United States last month. When the baby was born they planned to give it away for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Prescott, of North Charleston, S.C.

But before Mrs. Moore could leave, the U.S. embassy withdrew her visa. Then she got a transatlantic call from the Prescents saying they didn't want the baby after all. They complained the giveaway had aroused too much publicity.

Volunteers Rescue 29 as Blaze At Waupaca Causes $15,000 Loss

Waupaca — An 83-year-old patient suffocated and three firemen suffered minor injuries as fire Saturday night destroyed the second floor and attic of the Harris Riverview Nursing home. R. J. Harris, home operator, estimated the damage at more than $15,000.

Volunteer firemen, county traffic patrol and conservation personnel, along with the home operators, rescued 29 of the 30 patients, ranging in age from 80 to 96. All but 10 of the patients were ambulatory.

The fire was discovered seated in a chair in his second-floor room during a search of the smoke-filled house by Fire Chief Phillip Schroeder.

Firemen Angelo Tomaras suffered a burned arm, Roger Korseth lacerations on his face and head from nails in the attic and George Suits punctured both feet when he stepped on nails. Suits was the only one to leave the fire for treatment.

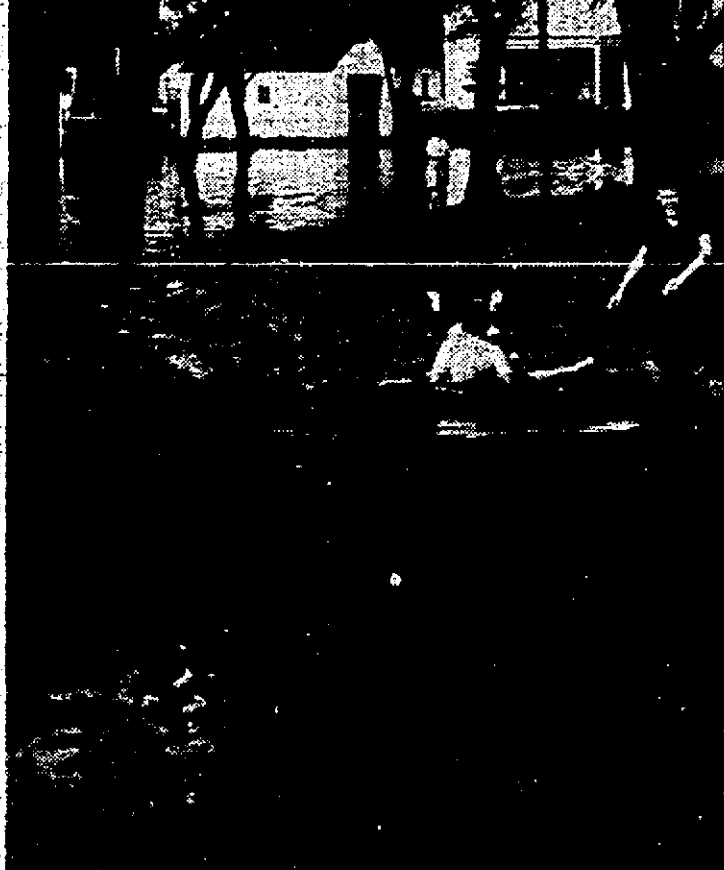

The door said Vaughan's door was closed and there was no indication the man had made any attempt to escape. It is thought he was napping and suffocated without awakening.

The fire was discovered by Harley Dunbar, a patrolman on the Waupaca police force, about 7:30 p. m. when he noticed smoke coming from the old brick building on the south city limits.

At practically the same time, Rex Oatman, conservation warden, was driving in the vicinity. James Smith, his deputy, was with him.

Started Evacuation As Dunbar radioed the alert.

All the Pleasures of the old swimming hole were enjoyed after Sunday's 1.31-inch rain by these youngsters in the Higgins and Maple streets area of Neenah. The water was pleasantly warm, but many more didn't enjoy it. Neenah firemen had more than 30 calls from homeowners who wanted basements pumped out or gas or power shut off. Menasha's troubles were less serious, with a few flooded basements in the Keyes street and Willow lane areas. The water simply came down too fast for the sewers to handle it.

Korean Troops Use Tear Gas On Rioting Mob

Crowds Demanding Resignation of Rhee, Vice President

Seoul, Korea — (U) — Tear gas and gunfire exploded again in Seoul tonight as Koreans renewed their demonstrations against President Syngman Rhee and his vice president many claim was elected through fraud.

For the first time since last week's "bloody Tuesday" riots took 130 lives, crowds gathered in the streets to demand the resignation of the 85-year-old president and his running mate, Vice President Lee Ki-poong.

A crowd of a few hundred students tried to break into the vice president-elect's home, and gunfire broke out. Apparently the bullets were blanks, fired either by the soldiers enforcing martial law or the Korean police.

Several injured. Several were injured in this clash. A report that three demonstrators had been killed was distributed by the Hapdong news agency, but withdrawn later. Hapdong said the information was not borne out.

Seoul was placed under second degree "security martial law" during the day, but full martial law was restored tonight.

Troops with gas masks, fixed bayonets and tanks fired tear gas into one crowd of

Many Children Trapped In Debris of Two School Buildings; Aid Rushed

Tehran, Iran — (U) — A giant earthquake has devastated the south Iranian city of Lar. The death toll in Lar and neighboring villages is estimated officially at 1,200 to 1,500. Unofficial estimates range to 3,000.

The quake struck Sunday. Demolition of two school buildings trapped many children in this most destructive disturbance of the earth's crust since 12,000 were killed in the Moroccan town of Agadir the night of Feb. 29.

The children had assembled in the schools for children's day celebrations. Rescue workers recovered 380 small bodies from the debris.

One hundred bodies were found elsewhere in a continuing hunt through the city of 17,000. Of Lar's police force of 55 men, only one was said to have survived.

City Destroyed Gov. Nohrat Qarib reported the city destroyed.

"The town's strongest building—my own office—has topped," Qarib said in the first report announcing the disaster. "Nothing can be seen because of the billowing clouds of dust. Please rush food and tents."

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi ordered quick relief measures. Iranian air force planes parachuted flour, sugar and eggs into the area and set up an airlift to ferry in other food, medicine and tents.

The U.S. government was the first foreign government to express regret for the catastrophe and to pledge aid. It made 100 tons of flour quickly available.

Queen Farah ordered government authorities to bring to the queen's Tehran orphanages all the children of Lar

Bad River Crests in Flood-Stricken Area

Portions of State Declared Disaster Regions; Additional Rain Forecast

Ashtland — (U) — The flood-swollen Bad river that forced some 500 persons in northern Wisconsin to flee to high ground during the weekend was receding today. But the possibility of more rain still menaced the area.

The Bad river, which flooded the Chippewa-Indian village of Odanah, near Lake Superior, crested about 11 p. m. Sunday night. By 7 a. m. today it had dropped one foot. All but seven persons, including a Roman Catholic priest and two nuns, had left the village. They refused evacuation. The others were sheltered in farmhouses, a town hall and garage. Food was dropped by helicopter.

Disaster Area

Portions of Ashtland, Iron and Bayfield counties were declared disaster areas by Gov. Gaylord Nelson who ordered out the National Guard to assist local officers, state police and volunteers.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan ordered out a guard unit at Ironwood to help officers evacuate threatened families.

The priest, Father Lucian, and the two nuns remained on the second floor of St. Mary's convent. Water severed

Nelson Backs Local Tax Option Law

Would Let Localities Reduce Dependence On Property Taxes

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Governor Nelson indicated today that he will probably support legislation permitting localities to levy additional taxes at their own initiative, to reduce dependence upon the burdensome property tax.

The governor told his weekly news conference that he doesn't want to anticipate the report of his revenue survey commission now, trying to work out state and local tax reforms but he remarked that the idea of auxiliary local tax sources "won't be too controversial."

Nelson also said he likes the idea of the state taking over the full cost of the public assistance program and its management, as also discussed with some enthusiasm by members of the citizen's tax study commission.

Property Tax May Decline

But he added that on the basis of his experience in the legislature and his knowledge of local fiscal affairs, it probably won't be feasible to repeal the personal property tax all together as asked by some business organizations.

Nelson said a percentage reduction of the personal property tax may be possible.

Formosa Faces Typhoon Karen

Manila — (U) — Pacific storm Karen blew up into a typhoon today and was reported moving toward Formosa with 85-mile center winds.

The Manila weather bureau said Karen was about 100 miles west of central Luzon island, curving to the northwest. The bureau said northern Luzon might feel the full force of the storm as it swept out to the China sea.

Supreme Court Denies Latest Chessman Plea

Washington — (U) — The supreme court today rejected another appeal by Caryl Chessman, Los Angeles sex terrorist scheduled to be executed next Monday.

The highest tribunal without comment denied a hearing on Chessman's plea that to execute him now, in view of recent events, "cannot be squared with conscience and human dignity."

The court also rejected a request for a stay of execution.

Nature's Soaking Fields All Over

Wisconsin — Cloudy skies and showers over state tonight. Tuesday continued quite cloudy east and south with decreasing cloudiness west. Continued cool. Outlook for Wednesday: Considerable sunshine with temperatures near seasonal normals.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today: High 71, low 41. Temperature at 10 a. m. today 42. Barometer reading 29.86 inches, with wind northeast at 15 miles an hour. Rainfall .32 of an inch Sunday.

Biloxi Race Riots Leave 10 Wounded

Attempt by Negroes to Swim On Beach Reserved for Whites Touches Off Trouble Sunday

Biloxi, Miss. — (AP) — Gun-carrying police — trying to quell race riots that left 10 wounded and at least four hurt in fights — patrolled this Gulf coast resort city today.

Tension lined faces of both Negro and white residents. Grim police talked little and moved watchfully, for no one knew if — or when — trouble might explode again in this normally gay city of 45,000.

Two Presidents Plunge Into Final Talks

Ike, De Gaulle Claim Agreement on Summit Procedures

Washington — (AP) — President Eisenhower and French President Charles de Gaulle plunged into their final talks on summit strategy today with a Soviet-western disarmament accord as their major goal.

The two 69-year-old leaders, with their foreign ministers, met at the White House just two hours before De Gaulle was to address a joint session of congress. The French chief of state was expected to emphasize a need for world-wide arms reduction and control and to advise the U.S. legislators that he sees no hope now for a Berlin solution at the summit.

Eisenhower and De Gaulle spent most of Sunday together and announced afterward that they had reached agreement on how they would proceed at the summit meeting.

Their objective in today's discussions with U.S. Sec. of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, the two presidents said, was "to decide on the way of presenting our common ideas" in the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. The summit conference begins at Paris May 18.

De Gaulle arrived at Eisenhower's office five minutes ahead of the scheduled time and the two immediately went into session.

The two planned to issue in the afternoon a communique on the result of their discussions.

Police arrested Dr. Mason again Sunday. The charge was fighting and disrupting traffic.

All this came during daylight.

Before the sun went down, a crowd of Negroes estimated by Mayor Lar Quave at 300 to 400 roamed up and down Biloxi streets, perhaps the group dispersed from in front of Dr. Mason's home.

Came: nightfall. Gun violence broke out then. Bullets and shotgun pellets wounded eight Negroes and a "two whites."

Andrew Parker, 17, a white youth, said Negroes shouted for him to stop as he drove near a Negro residential area. He stepped from his car and someone shot him, he said. He received a non-serious back wound.

Police did not give a full list of the wounded.

Back-Pack Produces 24-Volt Electricity

New Method Could Make Generators Obsolete, Practical Tests Scheduled

Los Angeles — (AP) — A new way of producing electricity that could make today's giant dams and steam generators obsolete gets a practical test next month — in a pack you could carry on your back.

Soldiers and marines will try out under combat conditions a 30-pound back-pack which supplies 200 watts of 24-volt direct current, enough power to run a front-line radar station.

The back-pack contains 30 fuel cells, devices that convert chemical energy directly into electricity.

These fuel cells, scientists say are twice as efficient as the engine that runs your car. They have no moving parts, need little maintenance and make no noise.

Chemical Reaction

They produce electricity simply as a result of the chemical reaction that occurs when you combine hydrogen and oxygen. Both are cheap and plentiful.

The combat unit, developed for the army and the navy by General Electric, produces current for 14 hours. It can be recharged by replacing a container of hydrogen — the fuel — about the size of a beer can. The hydrogen combines with oxygen from the air to produce the electrical current.

These first fuel cells were made small so that troops could carry them into the front lines. Theoretically there is no limit to the size of the cells, nor to the number that can be hooked up together.

R. J. Sheehan of General Electric, announcing the development Sunday, said fuel-cell electricity costs no more than that produced by generators or batteries and probably would be cheaper in the future.

Shotgun Blasts Kill Banker on Porch of Home

Police Hold Former Husband of Dead Man's Saturday Date

Durham, N.C. — (AP) — Charles S. Allen, a banker and baseball executive, escorted an attractive divorcee to a country club dinner. A few hours later he lay dead on his front porch, his body riddled by two shotgun blasts.

Allen

Solicitor (prosecutor) W. H. Murdock said the 60-year-old Allen, president of the Durham team in the Class B Carolina league, was shot and killed by Forrest Alfred Pollard, 53, former husband of Allen's date Saturday night.

Murdock said Allen, a widower, was asked by friends to escort Mrs. Pollard to a dinner at the exclusive Hope Valley country club Saturday night.

After the dinner, the two stopped at Allen's home to check on his two teenaged children. Pollard, who had been drinking, then arrived, Murdock said, and began to argue and Allen slapped his face.

"I won't fight you in your home, come out in the yard and talk," the solicitor quoted Pollard, a lawyer and former state legislator, as saying.

Murdock said he reconstructed this story from Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Virginia Pitchford, Allen's housekeeper for 22 years.

"Allen followed Pollard out of the house and to the edge of the street where Pollard had parked his car."

"Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Pitchford heard gunfire. Mrs. Pitchford ran to the front door, terrified, she found Allen bleeding and holding his side, staggering up the walk to the stoop. Allen told Mrs. Pitchford, 'Pollard shot me,'" Murdock related.

"Mrs. Pitchford took hold of Allen and was assisting him up the steps to the door when she said Pollard raised the gun again and fired another charge into Allen."

Murdock said he planned to ask a grand jury today to indict Pollard on a first degree murder charge. Pollard was held without bond.

Charge French With New Series of Ground Air Raids on Tunisia

President Warns That Incidents Will be Considered Acts of War

Tunis — (AP) — Accusing France of new ground and air raids on her soil, Tunisia has served notice any more border attacks will be considered acts of war.

President Habib Bourguiba cut short a tour of the north-west provinces and hastened back to the capital to deal with the crisis.

Bourguiba's government charged that the French had launched two attacks in the past week. On April 20, it said, French planes bombed and strafed Ouled Boulaba, and two days later Algerian troops in the service of France thrust into Tunisia near Thala.

Civilians Killed

The communique said many civilians had been killed in the raids. It also accused French commandos from Algeria of entering Tunisia and placing bobby traps to "create insecurity" along the tense frontier.

The French foreign ministry in Paris had no comment.

Habib Bourguiba, Jr., the Tunisian ambassador to France, was summoned home for consultations.

Observers here feared the situation was reaching the boiling point along the frontier, where about 10,000 Algerian guerrillas harass French outposts from Tunisian soil. France has accused Tunisia of siding against her in the 5-year-old Algerian war.

President Bourguiba warned the French to think twice before starting any real trouble along the tense border.

Merchant Ship in Fish Boat Crash

Boston — (AP) — The coast guard reported today that the SS Hurricane, a merchant vessel out of Mobile, Ala., was in collision with a fishing boat 60 miles southeast of Halifax, N.S., in dense fog.

The 5-man crew of the fisherman Laura Ellen was rescued by the Hurricane. The Laura Ellen sank. None of her crew was injured.

Gunman Breaks Into 2 Homes

Millwaukee — (AP) — A gunman broke into two Wauwatosa homes, flashed a light in the eyes of sleepy occupants and escaped with a total of $75 early today.

The man, described as very tall, broke into the homes of Norbert Zarem and Andrew Wilson by smashing panes of glass.

At both homes, he flashed a light at the occupants, threatened them at gunpoint and forced them to turn over money. The gunman obtained $11 at the home of Zarem and $65 at Wilson's house.

Piratical Exploit

2 Americans Plunder Rescuers, Kill Skipper and Steal His Boat

Nassau, Bahamas — (AP) — Two shipwrecked Americans plundered their rescuers, shot a charter boat skipper to death and made off with his boat in a piratical exploit at a lonely Bahama island Sunday.

The pair fled into Cuban waters while an unarmed U.S. coast guard plane hovered overhead, powerless to interfere.

Another coast guard plane rescued the wife of one fugitive, a crewman of the stolen Isla Morada, Fla., cabin cruiser Muriel III, and four Pennsylvania sport fishermen who told of being terrorized by the desperadoes' debate over whether to kill all witnesses to the slaying of Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55.

Was Shipwrecked

The woman gave her name in Nassau as Barbara Table, 18, and said she was shipwrecked with her husband, Alvin, 23, and William Sees, alias Johnson, 23, Tuesday in a boat the three took from Key West, Fla.

The Muriel III was off Elbow Cay, 106 miles south of Miami, when Boatwright spied mirror signals and saw the wreckage of a boat.

"The skipper was pretty leery of going in close," said Kent Hokanson, 21, mate of the Muriel III. "We thought they might be gun smugglers or Cubans."

"Then this guy (Sees) swam out to us. We let him aboard and he wanted us to go in closer and pickup another man and a girl. There was an argument. He pulled a revolver from his pants."

"Capt. Boatwright got a shark rifle and Sees shot him twice, once between the eyes and once in the chest."

"The other man, Table, swam out next. They threatened to kill us but decided not to."

Radio Coast Guard

"Table said 'We can't let these guys stick around. They know us.'"

"But the men in the fishing party talked them into letting us radio the coast guard that a man was injured and let us swim ashore."

"The four tourists had to give up their identification

Torch to be Burned For Caryl Chessman
 Sausalito, Calif. — Some 200 Marin county residents plan to touch off an around-the-clock torch tonight in protest against the scheduled May 2 execution of Caryl Chessman.
 Robert O'Leary, Corte Madera, spokesman for the Marin Chessman committee, said the flame is intended to symbolize the group's opposition to "death by the hand of the state in our county." San Quentin prison, home of the state's gas chamber, is about 10 miles north of here.

 O'Leary said police and fire officials have approved the flame, to be fueled by propane gas. It will burn until Chessman is executed May 2 or gets a stay.

At the convention in Rome Dr. Marshall will speak on the use of ostermer in sports injuries.
 At the Jerusalem conference he will review a series of Appleton area cases in which ostermer has been used.
 Dr. and Mrs. Marshall will leave Chicago May 4 for Paris, where the doctor will be guest of Prof. Robert Judet, inventor of the artificial hip apparatus.

Car Follows Boat During Launching

New London — The 1960 model car of Gary Shaver, Rockford, Ill., was completely submerged in the Wolf river about 9 a. m. Saturday at Riverside park when the brakes failed to hold during a boat launching.

Gary and his friend, Richard Ford, also of Rockford, were in the boat while Gary's father, Max Shaver, Rockford, was winding the wench on the boat trailer.

When the brakes released, the trailer and car started to roll down the launching ramp until finally the car disappeared beneath the water.

River current jackknifed the trailer and turned the car around. Max Shaver swam out to the trailer to hook on a cable from a New London wrecker to assist with the recovery. The cable was connected to the boat trailer, which in turn brought the car into dry land.

Gary said he had the new car only two months. They came here for a fishing weekend.

We Have The Best All-at-the-ear Hearing Aid Sonotone Ever Made

If you have a hearing problem, new or old, we invite you to learn about this totally new hearing aid at your local Sonotone office. Incredibly small and light, it is worn entirely at the ear, with or without eyeglasses. It has five times more power sensitivity than the previous smallest Sonotone.

We don't need to tell you here about its many features — you know any hearing aid offered to the public by Sonotone would have all the latest scientific advantages.

We would like to point out, however, that never before have all of its advantages (including our exclusive Automatic Volume Control) been available in a hearing aid so small or so powerful. It's the result of a 30-year search by the Sonotone laboratories for a hearing aid to provide such benefits.

Just Listen With It!

Yet any hearing aid has only one purpose — to help you hear better. That is why we ask you to give the new Sonotone Model "66" the only test that matters — WE WANT YOU TO LISTEN WITH IT.

That's all. If your ears are not convinced this is the better hearing you have been waiting for, then this model is not for you.

The Sonotone "66" — the best ear-level hearing aid Sonotone ever made — is now available at —

The Record of CARE in Germany

The Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere, Inc., CARE, will discontinue its work in Germany, except for Berlin, on June 30. The reason is that the officials of this agency as well as the welfare officials of Germany agree that the Germans now are able to handle their own problems. An office will be continued in Berlin to meet the needs of refugees arriving from East Germany.

CARE reports that since August, 1946, when food packages were first distributed to World War II victims in Germany, CARE has delivered $82,405,860 worth of relief and other supplies to Germany as gifts of the American people. Almost 95 per cent or about $78,000,000 went for food supplies. Other CARE gifts included $3,500,000 worth of clothing fabrics, blankets and other textiles and nearly $1,000,000 went for agricultural and vocational tools, books, scientific equipment and help for students. At the close of World War II, when the German people were in desperate need, CARE succeeded in keeping many of them alive.

In 1955 CARE discontinued delivery of packages to persons in Germany designated by the donor and has since concentrated on helping refugees and other special groups who were lagging behind the federal level of the country's prosperity. It is the policy of CARE not to continue services whenever the conditions of a country it serves have improved sufficiently to make its work unnecessary. During the past year it ended its work in Malta and at different times since the close of the war it has discontinued operations in 20 countries. It is still operating in 26 areas of Asia, Europe, the Middle-East and Latin America. Since CARE receives all of its food and most of its other supplies from government surplus, the donors of CARE packages were required to defray only the expense of wrapping and shipping. Thus it was possible for a donor to make a magnificent gift for a very small sum.

It has been one of the most successful agencies providing relief from America to people in foreign lands. The extent of the appreciation of the German people may be measured by the fact that as early as 1950 some former recipients of CARE gifts asked to be allowed to make contributions so that CARE packages could be sent to other needy countries. Since that time German donors have contributed $550,000 to CARE for this purpose.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer took special notice of the effectiveness of CARE in 1957 when he visited the United States. At that time he made a special visit to the CARE headquarters and arranged there to send a CARE plow to a needy farmer in Greece. CARE also has performed a great service to the United States by making some of this nation's tremendous surplus available to needy persons around the world. It is something that all Americans wanted to do.

Rebel With a Cause

There is, we believe, a bit of the rebel in every man but only few have the courage, or weakness, to let it guide their actions.

Press dispatches from Chicago in recent days told the story of William Johnson who walked away from his armored truck with $30,000 tucked beneath his arm and leaving behind this note: "I'm going out on a good drunk."

There can be no denying that what Johnson did was wrong. He broke the law and will have to answer for it. But he is not the first man to kick over the traces nor will he be the last.

We wonder if his action is not symbolic, in a way, of what every man has wanted to do at one time or another. It took a certain courage to do what Johnson did for, in one brief moment, he shattered all that he had worked to build in 26 years of faithful employment. He must have been aware of the consequences as he walked away from the truck.

If, as it has been said, man is a dreamer, 26 years of adulthood can serve only to underline the realization that many of those dreams can never come true. With his dreams gone and advancing years leaning heavily on his shoulders a man may feel a deep yearning to chuck it all and walk away. Few do.

But William Johnson did and we can feel both admiration and pity for him — a rebel with a cause.

Long Arm of Boycott

Wisconsin had its trial when dock workers refused to unload a ship's cargo because of a local strike, but there is another one going on in New York that is the result and perhaps the cause of international disagreements.

Egypt refuses to allow Israeli ships to go through the Suez Canal and also closes the gates to ships of other nations which carry Israeli cargo or have touched at Israeli ports. So when the Egyptian ship, Cleopatra, docked in New York a few weeks ago, New York longshoremen picketed the vessel and have refused to allow it to be unloaded. The case now is pending before the Federal Court in New York. The two New York unions involved have permitted the Cleopatra's crew to get water from valves on the pier and have allowed some mail to be taken off.

Meanwhile the United Arab Republic is fuming. Premier Nasser of Egypt called the incident an "emergency matter." The General Union of Stevedores, claiming to represent some 32,000 Egyptian and Syrian dockworkers, issued a statement saying they were prepared to boycott all American cargo ships in U.A.R. ports. However, no mention was made of actually closing the Suez to American ships or discriminating against American cruise ships which bring a lot of free-spending American tourists to Arab shores.

There has been a further rumor that perhaps the U.A.R. would simply boycott the port of New York in an effort to emphasize that its dissatisfaction was not anti-American but that "Zionist" pressure in New York was to blame. This has furrowed some brows of New Yorkers who are concerned about losing trade because of the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The whole business is further proof that actions in one nation more and more affect actions in others. It might even suggest it to Premier Nasser.

Who Is for What?

The DePere City Council was fortunately able to repent in a hurry one of those snap judgment actions that sometimes seem to take over a civic body.

At its April 12 meeting, the Council voted 7-1 for an ordinance prohibiting the reappointment of members of various municipal boards. The idea expressed was that such a move would serve to spread out responsibility a little and get a wider variation of ideas on the various commissions. The only reason one alderman voted against the ordinance was that the Board of Education was exempt.

But later it was discovered that an ordinance which does not pass unanimously must be voted upon again at a subsequent meeting. So on April 19 the matter came up again and the Council voted 7-1 to reverse its former decision! Not only that, but the utility commission which has always had a no-succession rule, was included in the new measure.

Of course the resolution in the first place was ridiculous. Whether or not a person serves more than one term does not determine his value to a commission. The experience gained often is necessary for intelligent, knowing decisions and some new appointees are even very careful not to get too involved in policymaking until they have served something of an apprenticeship and learned the ropes and background. If there are deadheads on a board they should be skipped over when the time for appointment comes up because they are deadheads not because they've been around awhile. Automatic reappointments do serve to establish a clique but the responsibility for bringing in new blood lies with the mayor when he chooses appointees and the council when it confirms them.

Legislation on TV Threatens Censorship

From The Pittsburgh Press

For every scandal, there must be a batch of new laws — or so it seems.

The clamor now is for more law to regulate television.

"Where a valuable natural resource such as the broadcast spectrum is concerned," says the house investigating committee, "the public interest is so pressing that it is unthinkable that the use of such a resource should be left entirely to the unfettered discretion of private entrepreneurs."

So, reasons the house committee, congress must give the Federal Communications Commission and other agencies more power to decide what is "in the public interest."

Most of the advocates of more Washington control over TV, including the house committee, profess to be appalled at the idea of "censorship." But in the same sentence, the committee demands that the FCC "prescribe and enforce standards governing program content and balance in the public interest."

What is in the public interest is a matter of opinion. And that opinion is far better represented by the millions of viewers across the country than it is by a handful of bureaucrats sitting in a monitor's room in Washington.

The law may need some tightening or clarification — most laws do. But the bent of the present drive for more rule over TV is headed directly toward program control. And that, whatever else it may be called, is censorship will crackle on tonight's western.

Boating Law Unconstitutional; Should be Repealed, Writer Says

Editor, Post-Crescent:

There has been much written and spoken about the Wisconsin boating law. The majority of the writers and speakers have been either legislators or members of the Conservation Department. I would like to present the other side of the picture, that of the boat owners.

In the writer's opinion, the Wisconsin Boating Law No. 1728 Chapter 505 laws of 1959 is, wholly and completely unconstitutional. It is unconstitutional in the National Constitution Article IV under amendments stating that: Persons shall be secure in their persons, homes, papers, and effects against search and seizures and that this shall not be violated and no warrants shall be issued without due process of the law. This article is also stated in the State Constitution Article I Section 11. In other words, no officer or person can go through your home, your business, your car, or your boat without a search warrant. Any state representative who tries to board a boat without a warrant is in violation of the above articles. If he can do this without a warrant, he can enter anyone's home at anytime without a warrant. What does the state think of this? Section 2.2905 of the boating law states a warden may board personal property without a warrant.

For the benefit of the general public, the regulations listed under the boating law are merely a duplication to those of us who have been active in this sport. These are federal waters and have been since 1874 when federal Judge Davis declared them so in the case of the Montello. The Rivers and Harbors Act of Congress August 5, 1886, gives the U. S. Army Engineers Corps federal authority under which the Corp of Engineers projects were constructed and are maintained on the Fox and Wolf river system of improved waterways, between Green Bay, and Fremont. The Engineers maintain these federal waterways and the Coast Guard handles the inspection requirements. All the regulations required under the new boating law have been required under federal laws and enforced by the Coast Guard for years! The only exception are some boats under 16 feet. When you paid your federal taxes, you have paid the Coast Guard to enforce these regulations and the Great Lakes Rules.

Next, consider item 30.71 of the new law. Boats equipped with toilets. These units must be sealed and can be used only on Lake Winnebago and the Mississippi river. Wisconsin Plumbing Code H62.20 Sewerage Treatment and Disposal Systems; Part 2A states: No sewage sludge shall be disposed of into any lake, stream, or other water course. If the conservation department or legislature is interested in enforcing the state plumbing code, the writer will gladly take them to a place 15 miles from this community. Raw sewage is pumped into a spot at a 300 to 600 gallon rate per minute! This place is neither on Lake Winnebago nor the Mississippi river. In view of the high rate of violation, boaters should take no heed of item 30.71.

The Wisconsin legislature often does things for two reasons — one that sounds good and second the real reason. In enacting this law they used the reason that sounds good, that being, boat safety. The real reason they enacted this law is in section 1.20280 (95) to divert $300,000 to support their deficit spending programs. When the legislature gets through leveling all the minority groups, such as this one, taxwise, they still will be unable to acknowledge the fact that deficit spending is their problem.

Legislation such as this boating law is typical of how lightly the legislature accepts its responsibility to the individual rights of each citizen and how lightly they accept the responsibility to provide a financially sound

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 28, 1950.

A suspicion is circulating through the state that Secretary Harvey and Treasurer Hastings mean to cheat Judge Dixon out of the certificate of election and figure Sloan in by rejecting votes canvassed by county canvassers on the 11th instead of the 10th.

Judge Dixon is actually elected by about 2,000 majority. Through the negligence of town clerks in not making out the returns and the wickedness of Shanghai canvassers in rejecting returns for informalities and technicalities, he has lost by about 1,500 votes.

Now then, if the state board of canvassers desire to seek the lowest depth of infamy, let them canvass him out of his seat on the Supreme Bench.

They may get Sloan to accept the seat on the Bench, notwithstanding his "Dear Brother" performance, we hardly believe he would stoop so low as that. If he did, of course, it would be with a view to rescue Booth the Negro Thief from the pains and penalties of the law.

Monday, April 22, 1925

A mobilization of labor leaders in Washington, April 29, was planned by officials of the American Federation of Labor for the avowed purpose of meeting industry's opposition to the Wagner labor dispute bill.

Local Governments Losing Independence

BY JOHN WINGAARD

Madison — The concept of the local governments of Wisconsin as independent and self-reliant entities, traditional in Wisconsin governmental arrangements, is rapidly disappearing.

The increasing dependence of the cities of this state, especially, upon the attitude of the state government is one of the significant developments of the times.

In Madison the other day the mayor spoke out frankly in his annual message to the city council. How Madison develops during the next few years, he said candidly, is not a matter for the people of Madison to decide, whatever they may think about it and whatever the traditional conceptions of home rule and community pride may seem to require.

Madison's fate is wrapped up in the policies of the state, and the state legislature, because municipal financial problems have grown beyond the capacity or the will of city administrations, he said in effect.

The story is the same elsewhere in the state. Milwaukee has a new mayor who pitched his vote appeals heavily upon the theme that he could do more in getting an attentive ear in the statehouse than could his rivals. One of the principal members (or most articulate, at the least) of the Citizens Revenue Survey Commission is a small town mayor who dines into the ears of his colleagues, the critical conditions in local government budgets.

The challenge fact is that in the typical larger city of Wisconsin the property tax, the old faithful buttress of the municipal budget, is nearing the breaking point.

The Madison situation is perhaps not typical. It tends toward the extreme side. But it is illustrative of the fate of mayors and city councils elsewhere, under the inexorable march of events.

Madison has a mayor who is competent, politically intelligent and conscientious. His constant and most difficult problem is to try to answer those of his constituents who are frightened by the size of the tax load. In a public meeting in the capitol the other day several civic leaders expressed surprise at a finding that there are many cases in Wisconsin where a young family head living in a mortgaged home is paying more in local property taxes than he is paying on the principal of his loan, or the principal and interest payments together. There are newer residential sections of Madison where such an experience is typical so common indeed that such home owners are surprised that anybody is surprised by their plight.

There is ambitious talk now about devising new ways for municipalities to raise their own revenues, according to their own tastes and according to their citizens' wishes. Local automotive taxes are most often cited as a possibility, and probably the idea has merit because the automobile has been such a heavy contributor to the increasing costs of local government.

There is ambitious talk now about devising new ways for municipalities to raise their own revenues, according to their own tastes and according to their citizens' wishes. Local automotive taxes are most often cited as a possibility, and probably the idea has merit because the automobile has been such a heavy contributor to the increasing costs of local government.

THE ANSWER

Yet a realistic interpretation of the outlook, with the aid of what has gone before, must be that relief of the cities' problems won't come from that direction — in part because mayors and city councils don't really want to help themselves that way.

The relief will come, if it comes, through increasing state responsibility for the financing of local services, and it can come only if the state completely refashions its own revenue system to broaden the base of state tax liability. That is one of the clearest lessons of Wisconsin governmental trends.

But when such greater state financial responsibility for local services comes it will be accompanied by extensions of state power and a further dilution of the form of home rule and local independence which already has lost much of its substance.

The logic of the fable maintains all of its validity. In government, perhaps even more than in private concerns, the paying of the fiddler brings with it the choice of the tune.

Voter's Loyalty Should Not be To Candidate

From The Donelson, Tenn., News Diary

We are hearing a lot these days about loyalty in connection with political candidates. There is no such thing. When a voter enters the voting booth he has no loyalty except to his God and country. The voting booth is not the place to pay off personal obligations and there is no binder on friendship. No obligation between person to person can demand such a high price as a citizen's ballot, a precious possession more valuable than all the gems and currency of the world as it is his ticket to Freedom and Life. The Nazis snatched the ballot from the Germans and saddled them with slavery and death. Don't let's hear any more. "I voted for him because he is a good fellow; I have known him a long time and didn't know the other fellow; he is a customer or my neighbor or even my brother or father" and for the love of liberty don't be influenced by money or promise of jobs. Vote for qualifications that will preserve law and order, justice and decency for your country, state and community. If you would ask yourself as you step into the ballot box "What Would Thomas Jefferson Do?" America would become safe for Democracy.

Shew in Good Hands

Small House Fails to Deter Harlequin Actors

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Despite a cruelly small audience at Neenah High school Saturday night, the Harlequin Players marked the opening of their first full-scale production, "Arms and the Man," with aplomb, skill and wry humor.

The new community theater's "strolling player" policy will have the production at Kaukauna High school tonight, Appleton's Lincoln school Saturday night and Menasha High school Sunday night.

In addition to dramatizing the Fox Cities nature of the company, the policy is meant to afford theatergoers more opportunities to see the show. The response Saturday would lead one to suspect there is an auditorium-full of spectators untapped from Neenah alone.

Better Treatment Deserved
Shaw's witty satire on war and pomposity, Jack Frisch's directorial sureness, Maurice Stack's tasteful sets and the company's obvious ability deserve better than was received Saturday.

As GBS' "Pygmalion" recently swung to dizzy heights on the musical stage as "My Fair Lady," so did "Arms and the Man" in the form of "The Chocolate Soldier."

Frisch, with that background, had the choice of staging the piece in florid Victorian Herbert mannerism or, at the other end of the scale, in the straight realism of a "slice of life." His choice was somewhere between the extremes with the tin soldier operetta flourishes tempered with understanding and the underplayed realism spiced with all of the slyness compounded by that bearded Irish expatriate who spoke to the ages.

Magazine Sets
Stack could have splashed the stage with the garish hues of the music hall or cluttered the stage with the 19th century Bulgarian trappings of pretended gentility. However, he mounted the piece with imaginative suggestion of scenery to the effect the sets appeared to have been prepared for a gloss-paper magazine.

Creating the most lasting impression is the husband and wife team of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis as the "chocolate soldier" and the heroine's bombastic mother. Willis used his most facile face and intelligent sense of humor to add inches to the stature of the Swiss captain's role.

Majestic Movements
Mrs. Willis had the knack of imbuing her movements with the majesty of a well-piloted steamer and capped this impressive feat with a voice of near operatic authority.

Making the most of the opportunity for contrast, Joe Voss skillfully turned the father into a study of frustrated authority not too unhappy with such a sad fate.

Carol Mischke, opening night, sidled into the Raina role but when she hit her stride, the romantic imposter caught fire. Shaw's prototype of a pompous citizen soldier nearly clicked in the hands of Robert Campbell. For this viewer, at least, a touch more of ham would fulfill the part. GBS' ever-present emancipated woman appears as the spunky maid in this show, played by Mrs. William Buchanan with more energy than spirit. Her antithesis is the handy man with a soul of a servant. Rick McIntyre, too young for the part, tried to make up for the difference in age with a much too quiet, although understanding, reading. R. L. Mayotte appeared briefly and adequately as a soldier.

Family Wiped Out By Headon Crash

San Luis, Obispo, Calif. — A headon crash Saturday night wiped out a Delano, Calif., family of five and a sixth person riding in their car.

The accident on U. S. 101 five miles south of here killed instantly John Melvin Wilkinson, 29, his daughter, Darlene, 19, his son, Doyle Ray, 6, all charges.

of Delano, and Paul Edson, 31, of Firebaugh, Calif. Mrs. Wilkinson, 29, died an hour later and a second son, Johnny Lee, 11, died Sunday morning. The highway patrol said the Wilkinson car was struck by one belonging to Ray Hamilton, 20, of Santa Maria, when it veered across the center line. Hamilton and Odell Jones, 23, also of Santa Maria, each insisted the other was driving, officers said. They were booked on manslaughter.

List Objectives of U. S. Africa Policy

Students Cite Need for Economic Aid; Change in Colonial Policies

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Lake — "What," the casual observer may ask, "is all this jazz about Africa?"

To many the continent means little more than King Solomon's mines, a place where Tarzan lives, or the site of recent reports of racial violence in the Union of South Africa.

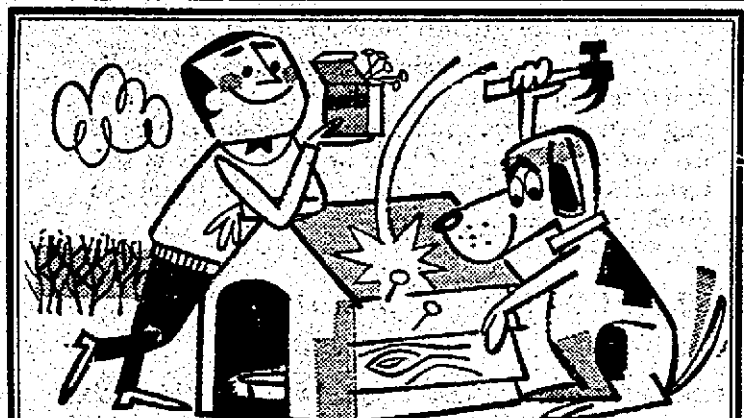

But to the 45 midwest college students who participated in a 4-day session on the relationship between Africa and the United States, the once forgotten "dark continent" has a direct financial, political and humanitarian bearing on Americans.

Gathered at 1,200-acre American Baptist assembly grounds near Green Lake in a rambling white hotel on the lake, the students discussed

BACKACHE & NERVE TENSION

SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION
Thousands of people are suffering from backache and nerve tension. These irritations often occur after 35, and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent urinating or itching irritation both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches. Backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, OXYGEN usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by curbing irritating urines in strong, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Safe for young or old. Get OXYGEN at drugstore. Feel better fast.

Encouragement of aid through U.N. agencies, private investment, and bilateral and multi-lateral agreements. This aid would continue even though the countries also were helped by Russia, for African neutrality is necessary at this point.

Allocation of U. S. scholarships to African students, although mass education should be left to the states.

Reach Agreement Encouragement of an international tariff agreement favorable to African products.

The students also felt the U.S. and the Soviet bloc should reach an agreement on limiting armament in Africa.

The students met Saturday to congeal their thoughts on the role of America and the U. N. in African problems. The Saturday session was the last of four. The students again split into three groups to discuss general questions and make recommendations.

At the end of the day, students and faculty members correlated the discussion in the three panels and outlined what they thought would be America's best course of action.

Idealistic Imperialism The race problem in South Africa was discussed by all the groups and although they agreed the U. S. should do something, there was sharp disagreement on just what America's role is and how strong its influence can be.

One panel member suggested intervention amounted to "idealistic imperialism," when his panel discussed trade boycott or the cessation of aid to countries with objectionable race policies.

"If we slap an economic boycott on South Africa," a student said, "what are we going to do with Mississippi?"

Desegregate Embassies A proposal for abolition of segregation in all American embassies and missions came out of one panel. This would go into effect immediately, especially in respect to social functions.

The purpose of the intercollegiate assembly on Africa and the United States was to form opinions and inject them into the mainstream of American thought.

Dog Crosses Highway, 5-Car Crash Results

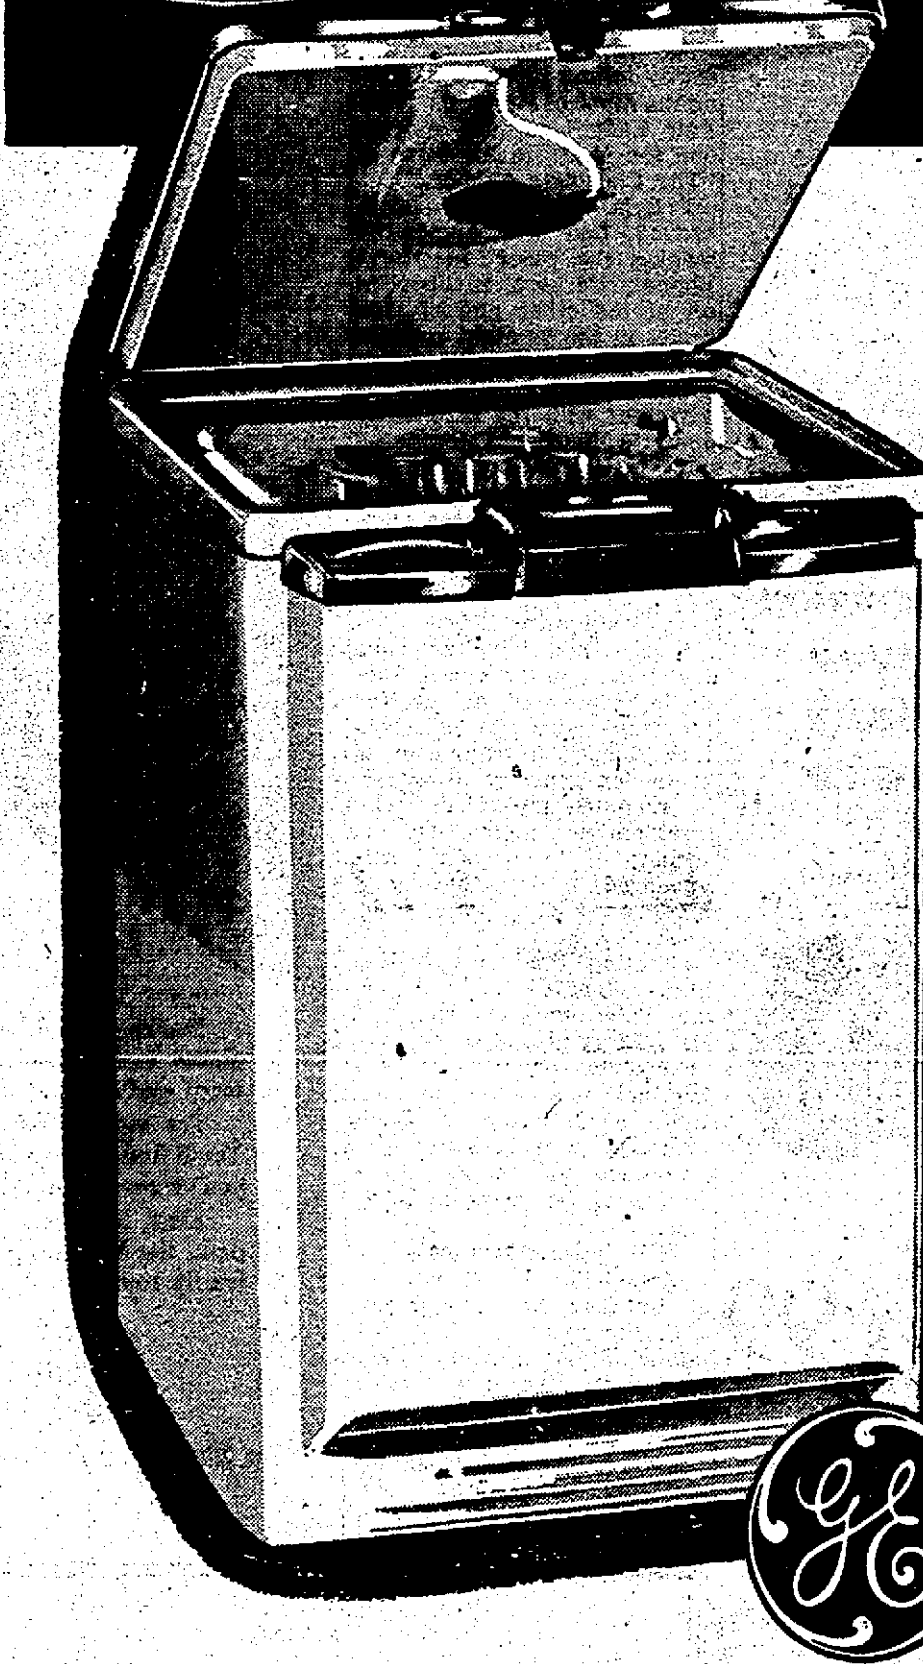

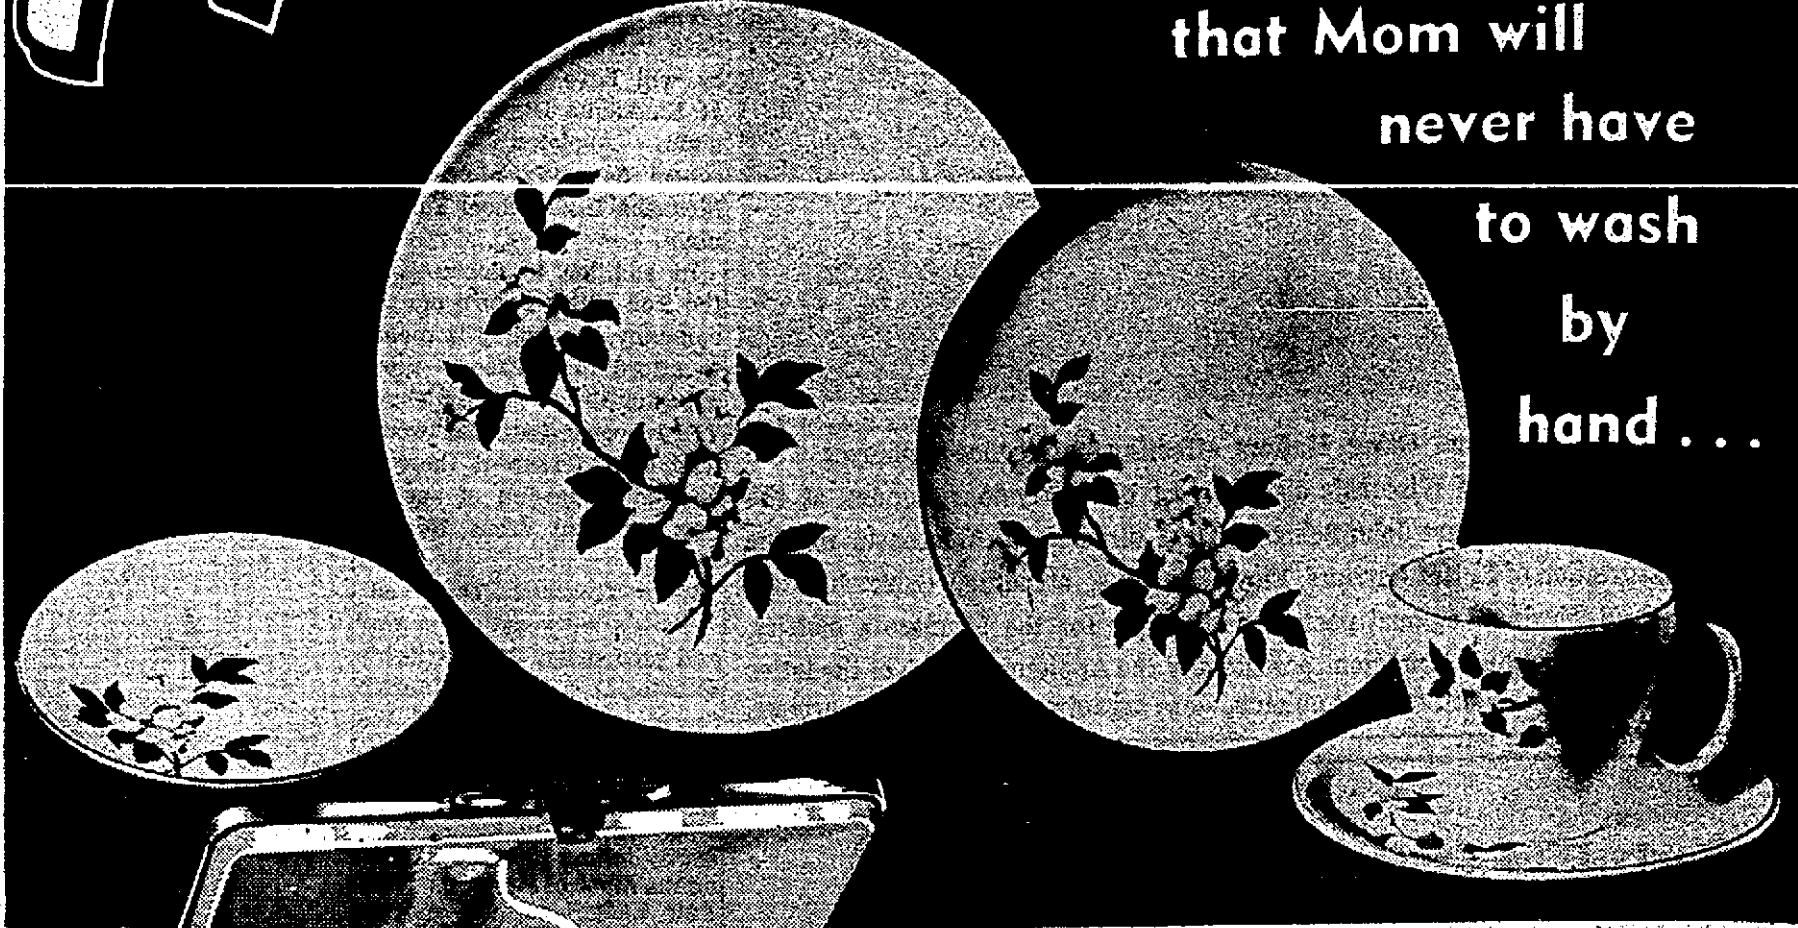

Alexandria, Va. — A dog trotting across the busy Shirley highway entrance to Washington set off a chain reaction. A motorist jammed on his brakes, five cars were damaged and two persons injured and traffic was backed up for seven miles. The dog was uninjured.

who lost their parents in the quake.

Special trains and other conveyances moved injured victims to a city hospital in Shiraz, 170 miles north of Lar. Beds were pushed together to make additional room and more cots were placed in the hospital corridors.

The village of Gerash, 15 miles south of Lar, also was destroyed. The village had a population of about 1,000 and "only a few hundred survived," authorities said.

The officials added that about 4,000 farm animals in Gerash were also killed.

Lar is 550 miles south of Tehran and 170 miles south of Shiraz. Aid was rushed from both centers.

The first shock struck about 4:15 p.m., sending most of the buildings in the city crashing down. A billowing cloud of dust obscured the entire area. Officials reported most persons inside at the time were killed.

Second Quake

A second quake hit about six hours later and reportedly destroyed what had been left standing.

Rescue teams which reached Lar this morning said two children, 8 and 5 years old, had been rescued alive after being buried for 18 hours under the ruins.

The rescue workers feared the only other survivors would be those who were in the open air and away from buildings when the first quake struck.

Rescue Teams

Rescue teams were dispatched from Shiraz, Jahrum and the port of Abass. The shah's sister, Princess Shams, made plans to visit the quake area.

Tents were set up on the outskirts of the devastated city for the survivors. The government assembled medical teams to fight the threat of epidemics of disease.

Flood-Swollen River Crests; More Rain Due

al feet deep swirled through the lower floor.

With the drop in the river level, vehicles reportedly were able to enter Odanah today.

Highways and railroad track beds in the flood area were washed out. But no one was injured and no one was reported missing.

At Hurley, 25 miles east, there was only one town road open into the iron-mining community of 3,000. The Montreal river had overflowed its banks and threatened to wash away one of two bridges linking Hurley to Ironwood, Mich.

In the Ironwood area, more than 70 families were forced out of their homes. Ten persons were evacuated at Hurley.

The rain began falling Friday evening and by Sunday night had dumped six inches on Odanah and nearly eight inches at Hurley. Light rain or mist was forecast for today.

May Have Crested

Ashland County Sheriff Bill Lee said Sunday night that the Bad river may have crested, but he added, "It's too early to tell." Lee directed operations at Odanah and city, said all those affected by the flood "are being provided for."

Iron County Sheriff Jack Hurley said at Hurley, "We're in no real danger here, except for our transportation problem." He said problems would increase if the only remaining road is closed by the flood.

Sheriff Hurley, in several trips over the road Sunday night, picked up nine children and four adults routed from their homes in Odanah and housed them in the jail at Hurley.

Sheriff Lee said volunteers from the Ashland Boat club made several trips to isolated homes in the Odanah area and on one brought out "the best one-legged pulp cutter in northern Wisconsin." The man is Bill Knight, a lumberjack who was trapped in the cabin where he lived alone.

Heavy Rain and Foul weather since Friday caused extensive damage in the Ashland area. A 40-foot section of U. S. Highway 2 near 14th street in Ashland was entirely washed away.

ty, that would not entitle them to the rights they want preserved. They would naturally then forfeit the right of access to West Berlin by land, water and air."

Surrounded By Reds

Berlin, 100 miles from West Germany is surrounded by the communist East. The United States, Britain and France have stationed troops there as an outpost of the west since World War II.

Western leaders have insisted they will not negotiate with Khrushchev under the threat of any Berlin ultimatum.

Khrushchev told the Baku meeting disarmament is the first problem for the summit. The deadlock on disarmament, he said, is "the greatest roadblock in the way to a strengthened peace on this planet."

Khrushchev continued: "The second issue, which affects the interests of many nations, is conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany, including the normalization of West Berlin.

Met With Force

"Conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany would at the same time mean liquidation of the occupation regime in West Berlin and, consequently, the withdrawal of the occupation troops from there."

Khrushchev told the west that the Soviet Union is stronger than ever before. To those who argue that the west is entitled to keep occupation troops in West Berlin, Khrushchev said:

"I must warn such hotheads that if force is applied it will be met with force from the other side."

5,000 students and civilians led by 200 middle-aged college professors who marched on the national assembly building.

The crowd called for the resignation of Rhee, all supreme court justices and all members of the assembly. It fell back, apparently stunned, when the troops used tear gas. Most seemed to have believed the soldiers were on their side. But as three medium tanks rumbled into the streets, guns trained on the demonstrators, soldiers and the throng eyed each other cautiously.

popular rejection of President Rhee's plans to bring political peace to South Korea.

Rhee has promised to run the country as a nonpartisan president, surrendering his leadership of the liberal party, but he showed no inclination to give up his autocratic powers. He is under heavy criticism for failing to call new elections.

Many Possibilities

Liquid Formula Diet Tested Successfully

Chicago — A new mineral and protein-free liquid formula diet has been tested successfully among a group of volunteer college students. Dr. Victor Vertes, division of medicine, Mt. Sinai hospital, Cleveland, said the liquid concentrate (Controlite) promises to be valuable for many conditions in which mineral and protein intake must be avoided or controlled. Writing in the current Journal of the American Medical Association, the Cleveland physician said the formula was found to be "palatable and well tolerated" when taken by the healthy students during a three to 5-day test in contrast with many previous formula diets. None of the subjects, 19 men and one woman, complained of hunger, although six craved solid food. Weight losses ranged from 3 to 11 pounds. Some weight loss was expected, Dr. Vertes said, because the calories provided were not adequate for such active subjects. Preliminary data indicate that weight loss does not occur in hospitalized patients.

Dr. Vertes said there has been an obvious need for such a formula but difficulty had been encountered in the past in reducing the mineral content to a reasonably low level. The new formula, which contains carbohydrate and vegetable fat, represents a "98 to 99 per cent" removal of minerals compared to a normal diet, he said.

Benefit of Diet
The diet may benefit persons with cirrhosis of the liver, congestive heart failure, kidney disease, and other disorders in which sodium retention is a factor, he said.

"Patients who cannot adhere to routine low-salt diets might be benefited by periodic use of the formula as an adjunct to other therapies," he added.

The diagnostic uses of such a formula are multiple, Dr. Vertes said. For example, he said, the special diet kitchens, trained personnel, and complicated laboratory processes now required to study a patient's metabolism could be eliminated since any "fair-sized hospital" could perform metabolism studies if the formula were the sole food given the patient.

Woodsy Trees for Tomorrow Camp Charlie's New Bailiwick

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Eagle River — Here in the storied Trees For Tomorrow Conservation camp, I am observing the application of education by real pros — scientists with a common touch and a wide, varied knowledge of the natural sciences.

Their woods wisdoms are being applied to some of Wisconsin's top young high school students, 33 of whom are from northeastern Wisconsin and who represent the cream of the crop from the high schools of Bear Creek, Bonduel, Freedom, Shiocton, Seymour, Pulaski, Gillett and Hortonville.

Two sophomores and two senior students from each of these Wisconsin high schools are being sponsored on a scholarship basis by the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, which has offices in Appleton. The power company is a member of the corporation, Trees For Tomorrow Inc.

Also attending the woodsy class sessions at the camp

are prime scholars from Mosinee, Wis., and from Michigan.

The 50 young scholars rolled into camp mainly by bus, and their meeting with others in their age group has been amusingly cordial, but reserved. A nod in passing a Michigan student, for example, may be sufficient reason for the foundation of a thorough friendship, but this has not yet seemed to have happened. Dignity is in style.

Camp staffers and long-time observers of the social life of the American high school student have informed me that this slightly strained relationship will persist only for the opening day and, with each succeeding day, will become unrestrained and more open and sincere. The youngsters are quick to develop respect for one another, and friendships ripen readily. But not today.

At the time of this writing, the total of 50 young people have been oriented to the basic expectations of the camp and some of the vital information, such as, said one instructor, "the way to the dining hall." But at the early session, Bonduel youngsters sat with Bonduel youngsters and Seymour folks sat with their classmates from Seymour and so on. At the meetings, silence reigns. Questions are slow to come and the only talker in the group is the instructor. There is a shyness very easy to observe. Tomorrow will be another day.

Today, however, the students ate their dinners of roast pork, mashed potatoes, peas and milk in dignified semi-silence. The portions they put upon their own plates were small. Dignity is the elegant mode of the moment. Everybody is circumspect, observing. Tomorrow natural, gay spirits of the young people will bloom—so say the experts, the observers of many young people over many a camp session.

Tomorrow the kids will "eat like horses," according to John McLean, former camp director here and now of the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, and they'll find laughter in everything, and they'll chatter.

Time for "play" on the volleyball or the horseshoe courts is strictly limited for the Trees for Tomorrow camp is an educative device with an attitude of strictly business.

Classes, lectures, field trips and demonstrations will keep these able young scholars scrambling to adhere to the knowledge they gain.

The sessions begin at 8 a. m. and, with breaks for the home-cooked, family-style meals, linger on until 9:30 p. m.

Hopes of Staff

"We hope, of course, that all of the conservation education we give them will be retained," said M. N. Taylor of Merrill, who is executive secretary of the Trees for Tomorrow organization, "but it is our fondest wish that what we teach them will be taken home and served to their own communities."

Accompanying the northeastern Wisconsin students for the 3-day plunge into the subjects dealing with conservation is Alfred Hovey, teacher at Bonduel High school; Paul Czarniecki of Bear Creek; Lee DeGroot of Freedom High school; and Vivian Krinke, Seymour High.

From other areas, teachers attending are Terrance Ingram, Iron Mountain High school; Amelio Palluconi, Kingsford High school; Kingsford, Mich.; Margaret Barrette and Mark Hangsby, Mosinee.

The Trees for Tomorrow organization has had ample experience with such 3-day classes as this, for from 1945 through 1949, a total of almost 5,000 persons have been exposed to conservation education delivered by Trees for Tomorrow and applied in some of the pine wood forests of Wisconsin.

As this is being written, the teenagers who are generally outstanding in their work are walking quietly toward their dormitories. They walk slowly and with dignity for they are tired and discreet but we shall see what the morrow will bring.

Negro Political Boss Quits Again to Fight Conflict of Interest

New York — Hulan Jack has voluntarily quit his powerful post of Manhattan borough president to fight charges he violated a local charter by accepting financial favors from a business client of the city.

The 52-year-old Negro, a Tammany hall Democratic district leader in Harlem, announced he was suspending himself from his $25,000-a-year office without pay pending outcome of conflict-of-interest charges made against him by a New York grand jury.

The same charge had been returned against Jack once before but the indictment was dismissed. Jack suspended himself from office then, but returned after the indictment's dismissal. Two days ago the indictment was reinstated.

The Trials of Easter Egg hunting were illustrated Sunday by Mrs. Ernest Eisder and her granddaughter, Susan Pierre. Clad in foul-weather gear, the pair braved Sunday's storm to collect these eggs in Pierce park at the hunt sponsored by Appleton Optimist clubs. The umbrella served a dual purpose. The Easter Sunday hunts were cancelled because of the snowstorm. Both the Optimists clubs and the American Legion held their hunts Sunday.

Lawrence Symphony Has Touch of Spring

By Marguerite Schumann

One of the most pleasant sounds of this seductive season (ranking just after the house wren practising her coloratura in the lilac bush outside the breakfast window) is the sound of man's music coming distantly from an open door.

It somehow says that although culture generally must be boxed up within walls where acoustics and shelter are favorable, yet nature cannot be denied, and for that space of time they are invited to mingle.

The sound of man's music as set forth by the Lawrence Symphony orchestra made an enchanted circle around Memorial chapel last evening. Director Kenneth Byler's orchestra is playing with great authority and style this season. Last evening's concert was a felicitous one. It was made of warm, persuasive music from both 19th and 20th century, a triumph both in program-making and performance.

Written by Outsider

This was more than just another in a long series of good concerts, however. It was the first time the Lawrence Symphony has performed a composition written expressly for it by a composer other than one of Lawrence's home talents.

Chosen for this premier commission was Verne Reynolds, a regular with the Peninsula Music Festival orchestra.

Reynolds' "Celebration Overture" does what it sets out to do, all right. It discusses celebrations of varying nature—some from the wild, pagan shriek that opens the work through jubilation of more sophisticated and ultimately poised qualities. William Ward and Frank Pooler of California schools, Lawrence's own James Ming and now Verne Reynolds have all demonstrated real mastery of the contemporary idiom, and have contributed some important music which Lawrence college should be proud to have evoked.

Beethoven Piece

The balance of the evening was Beethoven's Consecration of the House Overture, Op. 124; Mendelssohn's elegantly urbane Italian symphony; a strong, fresh item of Wallingford Riegger's titled Dance Rhythms, Op. 58, punctuated by exciting percussive sounds; and Samuel Barber's Adagio for Strings.

The Lawrence Symphony can indeed be considered at full flood when it owns a full-time harp player. That happy state of affairs now exists, and the stage looks very dressy with the big gold instrument on the right side. Giving lie to the old rhyme "A harpist must have lots of pluck, a black silk costume and a truck" is its pretty owner, Suzanne LeMoine. Her costume is bouffant pink.

Want to Abolish House Un-American Activities Committee

Chicago.—A resolution urging abolition of the house un-American Activities committee was passed unanimously by the American Civil Liberties union Sunday.

The vote came after Walter Millis, a New York author and a member of the ACLU's board of directors, declared that the communist-hunting committee had done its job. "It has run out of victims," was the way he put it to delegates at the final session of the ACLU's biennial conference.

Millis linked the committee to the tactics of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

He also asserted, "McCarthyism is not dead. The methods learned in his anti-communist crusade have reappeared in the racial problems of the south."

Eason Monroe, Los Angeles, chairman of the Southern California ACLU, said Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) was to urge abolition of the committee in a talk before the house today.

"No yearly 'spring break-up' headaches around here since we got our concrete streets!"

When the frost leaves the ground—that's the time concrete really proves its worth. You won't find springtime potholes, ruts and washouts on modern concrete streets. No bruised tires or frazzled tempers. No patching crews rushing out as soon as the weather breaks.

The "spring break-up" season holds no hazards for concrete streets because concrete is rigid and solid instead of soft and flexible. It spreads traffic loads across the spongy, thawed ground beneath it. And a concrete street has the strength and thickness to keep "frost boils" from working through the pavement.

That's one good reason concrete's upkeep costs so low. You keep on saving money year after year with all-weather concrete streets.

Teacher Paul Price
Called Mr. Percussion

Bing, Bong, Bang of Contemporary Music Taught at New York School

By W. G. ROGERS
AP Arts Editor
New York (U-P) — "Boomlay boomlay boomlay boom" It's popular jazz; it's the serious young composer's special joy; it's the one choir of the orchestra undergoing the most extensive and fastest changes; it's the sound of the modern fever and frenzy.

In short, it's percussion.
And "Mr. Percussion," as conductor Leopold Stokowski has said, is mild-mannered, teacher-type Paul Price, a quiet fellow you'd never think of blaming for, or crediting with, the thunder, crackle, thump, scrape, big and wham of a lot of contemporary music - whether low-brow for dance floors or long-hair for concert hall.

"Music began as primitive percussion," Price said — it was Vachel Lindsay's "boom-lay boom" that gave the beat of it in his poem "The Congo."

Price was speaking in a barren room surrounded by what looked as much like instruments of torture as instruments: jawbone of a horse, iron pipes like murderous weapons, brake drums, even a pistol. Price has charge of percussion instruction at the

...as a Hobby!

Miss Susan Rickert is holding a mold while Harold Cotter pours slip into the plaster of paris blocks. Slip is liquid clay which becomes the ceramic form. The mold absorbs slip, the clay dries within the mold's walls, and becomes a fireable piece.

Mrs. Harold Cotter shows the dried clay-form to Mrs. Marie Bachman. Pieces of mold have been removed after their long drying process. Throughout the years, the Cotter's have collected many costly molds, and are now able to produce varied ceramic shapes.

The basement of the Cotter home, 1618 N. Owaissa street, has become a ceramic workshop for many. Cleaning the molded shapes are Mrs. Norman Pleier and Alfred Buttner, Oshkosh. They are using wet sponges to remove excess clay chips from the pieces which will next be glazed.

After varied stages in the production of ceramic ware, a final product could be as colorful as this vase. It has been molded, cleaned, glazed, painted, and, finally, the kiln-firing makes it serviceable. Hand-painted designs give it an original touch.

Mrs. Cotter is an artist in many respects, studies painting and drawing in classes on her own. She currently is general chairman of the rural art show which will open on April 30 at the Worcester Art center, and is past president of the Valley Artists' association.

In the Cotter living room there is a handsome oak lamp designed and produced by Harold Cotter. But the home his family enjoys is perhaps the best testimony to Mr. Cotter's skill and gift for hand work.

Linda Cotter, the oldest daughter, is a secretary by day and a talented craftswoman in her leisure time. She has made an impressive assortment of prize-winning silver jewelry, chip-carved Steven Hamilton is watching Mrs. Donald Theyerl decorate a molded vase. She is using a spinning potter's wheel to evenly distribute the design. At right, Mrs. John Bowers smooths a clay dish which has been formed on the wheel. Display shelves in background show semi-finished pieces.

Patience, a steady hand and talent will result in a colorful vase design. Mrs. Wilmer Tiedt observes while Mrs. Harold Cotter carefully paints glaze on the molded form. When colored glaze covers the vase, it will be ready for firing in a kiln.

Mrs. John Hamilton is putting the glazed vase into a kiln, where it will be fired for permanent finish. A kiln will hold many pieces so that one process will produce several finished products. The Cotter family has two such kilns in their ceramic workshop.

The Cotters are Potters, And So are Their Daughters

BY CEIL OTTE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A family in our midst has learned the secret of playing together and staying together. They are the Harold Cotters, 1618 N. Owaissa street. The four family members built their own home, developed personal hobbies and shared their enthusiasm with others.

Mr. Cotter, his wife, Ruby, and their two daughters, Karen, 18, and Linda, 23, all pitched in and constructed their home. Each has gone in various singular directions with handicraft work. Mrs. Cotter now is finishing a year of teaching ceramics to her friends, neighbors, and those who have learned of the facility and opportunity for pursuing an outside interest.

The basement-workshop of the Cotter home reveals that a family can find one hobby in which each member will be involved. Cotter-built shelves display semi-finished and completed ceramic pieces.

Everything from original creations to carefully molded forms of pottery. One section is devoted to jars of colored glaze which will be painted on non-fired clay. And there are two kilns. These ovens for ceramic firing hold many shapes at one time. Other tools of the trade are brushes, sponges, specially-purchased molds, and the raw product, clay, from which all ceramic products stem.

Teaches Craft

Since this family has discovered a love of pottery-making, they have exposed others to it. Mrs. Cotter teaches the craft twice a week, on Monday afternoon and Thursday evening. Her classes have grown considerably since they began in September. Her students learn, then go their own ways, designing from personal ideas.

Included in the range of people learning ceramics are a 72-year-old woman and a 6-year-old girl. Age is not a factor, and Mrs. Cotter maintains it is "something anyone can do."

The Cotter foursome's ability to hold hobbies doesn't end with pottery-making. Linda Cotter, the oldest daughter, is a secretary by day and a talented craftswoman in her leisure time. She has made an impressive assortment of prize-winning silver jewelry, chip-carved boxes, and a professional-looking mosaic coffee table.

Karen, a student at Appleton High school, was co-chairman of the school's successful art show which ran last week. Having taken a tailoring course at the vocational school, she is able to sport beautifully-made costumes.

The youngest Cotter also has done extensive work with silver, lapidary, copper enameling and photography.

Their mascot, Sparky, is the only member of the family who hasn't gotten involved with crafts, but the dog escorts them on summer camping trips.

Every summer this happy group embarks on a long jaunt to Somewhere, U.S.A., where they rough it in the wilds with majestic scenery outside their tent. A plate is one memento of such trips.

Created by Mrs. Cotter, it depicts favorite scenes and family fun in the mountains. While finishing this year's artistic projects, the Cotter clan is anticipating another such junket. When September comes, they will all return to making ceramic forms, silver, clothes, and other projects of an interested and interesting family.

Cousin Will Understand Situation

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just recently become engaged for the second time and plan to be married in June. Last spring, at the time of my first engagement, I had asked my first cousin to be my maid of honor. Soon afterwards the engagement was broken, and now that I am once again betrothed, I would like to know if I am still obliged to have this cousin as my maid of honor. My fiancé has a sister who is also eligible for this role and since my fiancé has asked my younger brother to be his best man, it would seem rather appropriate for his sister to have the corresponding part of maid of honor. It would mean a great deal to her and to my fiancé. However, I would hate to offend my cousin. As you can see, this is a rather touchy matter and is turning into a real dilemma for me.

Answer: If you explain the situation to your cousin, I am sure she will understand your position and will not be offended if she is not asked again to be your maid of honor, and will be happy to be one of your bridesmaids instead.

Proper Address

Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a birth congratulation card to a new mother to the hospital, should it be addressed to her alone or to Mr. and Mrs.?

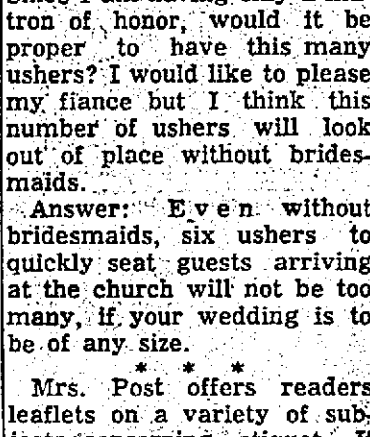

Answer: Those sent to the hospital are usually addressed to the mother alone. Those sent to the house should include the father.

Ask Ushers

Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to be married soon and my fiancé would like to ask six of his friends to be ushers. Since I am having only a matron of honor, would it be proper to have this many ushers? I would like to please my fiancé but I think this number of ushers will look out of place without bridesmaids.

Answer: Even without bridesmaids, six ushers to quickly seat guests arriving at the church will not be too many, if your wedding is to be of any size.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet, E-1, entitled "Announcing the Engagement," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Ideal Brows

With all the emphasis on eye make-up — shadows, liners and mascara — the time has come to pay more exacting attention to the eyebrows. No amount of "point" fully glamorizes the eyes, unless the brows form a frame that sets off the art work.

Brows need only be well-groomed to pass muster. And good grooming is a matter of brushing, penciling in missing strands, deepening light brows with mascara, and tweezing stragglers. But for the woman who seeks perfection, there is one further step. It is shaping the brows so that they ovalize the shape of the face and thereby accent the eyes, just as they should.

The chart below gives the ideal brow for face shapes:

Diamond face — brows rising from the lowest point at inner corner to highest point at temples. Round face — winged brows, peaking close to outside corners of eyes. Square or long face — rounded arch. Triangular face — nearly level brow. Oval face — gentle arch.

Very often a desired shape can be achieved with a hair stick and brushing. But if need be, do not hesitate to use pencil and tweezer, too. In any case, work for subtle effect. No exaggerations — ever!

Facial flaws both large and small can be repaired by make-up. How to give the illusion of perfection to imperfect features is detailed in my leaflet, "Make-Up, Make-Believe." To obtain a copy, write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

Summer Change Matchmates—Slipcovers and Shades

Something different in a only 9' x 10' and has two 36-inch square windows. We'll can come with more yardage of the cheery new prints for slipcovers—more yardage, not for curtains, but for shades.

The print fabric can be the sturdy king that's a long-term best bet for the chairs and it won't matter that it's too weighty for curtains and stubbornly against hanging in soft curtain folds. Its substantial characteristics are crisp advantages for Roman shades.

The making of newly popular Roman shades is simplified by a widely available shirring-tape, which comes with attached rings and woven-in cords for their operation. Lengths of the tape are stitched vertically to the backs of the shades 10 to 14 inches apart, and deep horizontal folds form as the shades are raised by pulling the cords. A designing eye notes a better match of shades to slipcovers than of curtains to slipcovers when patterned fabric is used. Pattern hanging in curtain folds so often looks very different from the same pattern used flat, but shades show the pattern flat just as slipcovers do.

Wifely Role Appeals To Madame De Gaulle

BY GODFREY ANDERSON

France's first lady, known affectionately as "Aunt Yvonne," has spent nearly 40 years of marriage in the shadow of her famous husband.

Naturally shy and self-effacing, she accepts the publicity which is now hers as President De Gaulle's wife. But in the gilded splendor of the presidential Elysee palace in Paris she dreams of their next quiet weekend in their manor home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

It's said that when De Gaulle became president in January last year, he promised her they would spend at least one weekend each month at home. So far they have managed to do so, despite their rigorous official schedule.

Typical Love Story

The story of the De Gaulles is the typical one of a young provincial girl who met and fell in love with a dashing army officer. Yvonne Vendroux was the daughter of a biscuit manufacturer who emigrated from Canada and settled in the French channel port of Calais.

As wife of the president she has no official standing in France. She helps her husband entertain visitors, supports charities, looks over schools and hospitals, but never appears at his side in official ceremonies. When he travels, she makes the journey separately or discreetly takes her place in his plane ahead of departure time. This self-effacing role suits her well. She has never sought public honors.

Mme. De Gaulle at 60 is a serious, deeply religious person. And she has the provincial Frenchwoman's customary care in handling the family budget. Officials say she watches expenses at the Elysee just as closely as she does at home in Colombey.

Conservative Tastes

In dress the president's wife favors classic two-piece suits, often in black, and cut on severe lines. Her evening dresses are conservative also and in dark colors. She wears little jewelry.

Her only known hobbies are flower arrangements and playing the piano.

The great tragedy of the De Gaulles' lives was the long illness and death of their youngest daughter, Anne, who died in childhood 12 years ago. Anne's name was given to a foundation for backward children which is perhaps their greatest charitable interest.

The De Gaulles have two other children—a son, Philippe, commander of a destroyer in the French navy, and a married daughter, Elisabeth. Their three grandsons, children of Philippe, often stay with them at Colombey.

There Yvonne De Gaulle lives her happiest hours, watching the boys run cycle races in the park, driving to market in her tiny French car, and chatting with Philomene, the cook, about the day's menus.

BY GODFREY ANDERSON

France's first lady, known affectionately as "Aunt Yvonne," has spent nearly 40 years of marriage in the shadow of her famous husband.

Naturally shy and self-effacing, she accepts the publicity which is now hers as President De Gaulle's wife. But in the gilded splendor of the presidential Elysee palace in Paris she dreams of their next quiet weekend in their manor home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

It's said that when De Gaulle became president in January last year, he promised her they would spend at least one weekend each month at home. So far they have managed to do so, despite their rigorous official schedule.

Her only known hobbies are flower arrangements and playing the piano.

The great tragedy of the De Gaulles' lives was the long illness and death of their youngest daughter, Anne, who died in childhood 12 years ago. Anne's name was given to a foundation for backward children which is perhaps their greatest charitable interest.

The De Gaulles have two other children—a son, Philippe, commander of a destroyer in the French navy, and a married daughter, Elisabeth. Their three grandsons, children of Philippe, often stay with them at Colombey.

There Yvonne De Gaulle lives her happiest hours, watching the boys run cycle races in the park, driving to market in her tiny French car, and chatting with Philomene, the cook, about the day's menus.

Delegates Attend WSCS Conclave

The Wisconsin conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held its 15th meeting recently at the First Methodist church, Oshkosh. There were 325 delegates and visitors representing 225 women's societies. Voting delegates from Appleton were Mrs. Walter Roehr and Mrs. Donald Stark, of the Appleton WSCS, and Mrs. Ralph Alton, district Christian Social Relation secretary.

Representatives started action for establishment and support of a center of community service in the area of St. James Methodist church, Milwaukee.

The group also voted to support a bill of Wisconsin Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, to create a national peace agency. This agency would research to discover new methods of enforcing disarmament agreements, new ways of detecting atomic, poison gas, germ warfare, missile tests on severe lines. # Girl Dating No-Good Man Sees Light While Writing to Ann

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm tortured with indecision. I don't know whether or not to marry the guy. I'm going to give you the straight story — then wait for the green or the red light.

I'm 23. Glen is 30. We've gone together a year. He was married briefly but never talks about the bust-up. I don't know what happened. He's terrifically good-looking and well-built. He has a fast line of patter and a quick mind. At present he's a salesman — his third job since I've known him.

He's always short of money. I've made his car payments for the past four months. If he lost his car he couldn't work.

Glen is terribly jealous of me. If another fellow is even civil he gets mad. When we aren't together he phones four or five times during the evening. He claims he's lonesome. I think he's checking.

Now — on the positive side: Ann, I've been sitting here staring at this paper for fully five minutes and I can't think of one thing to say. That did it! You don't need to answer this letter. I'm seeing things clearly for the first time. You've helped more than you know. Thanks a million. — Meg

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please tell me what to do about a 16-year-old boy who is in the 10th grade, makes excellent grades, participates in basketball, football, track and is popular, yet he sucks his thumb while reading and sleeps with his thumb in his mouth every night.

He has sucked his thumb since he was an infant. We thought he'd outgrow it. We've tried to shame him out of it by mentioning it in front of his friends but even that doesn't work. Please tell us what this means and how we can break him of this childish habit. — M.P.O.

Dear M. P. O.: Thumb-sucking is a symptom of emotional insecurity and is usually outgrown by the time a child goes to school. Shaming, scolding, threatening and punishment won't break the habit. In fact, these techniques often work in reverse because they create additional discomfort and produce deeper anxieties.

Thumb-sucking at all age levels should be ignored. Concentrate instead on giving the boy more attention, warm praise for jobs well done, more real love and less criticism.

DEAR ANN: Should a man who works hard all year and looks forward to a two-week summer vacation, be expected to take his mother-in-law along?

Please don't misunderstand. My mother-in-law is a wonderful old gal and has never interfered. My wife is her only child and although we live in the same block she never horns in or imposes her views on us. It's my wife's idea to take her along.

My point is this: My mother-in-law is a well-fixed widow who has traveled a lot more than we have and she's not hard up for a trip. I want a vacation with just my wife for a change. If I'm wrong, say so. I find myself totally inept at handling this mother-in-law problem. — Unhappy Harry

Dear Unhappy: You don't have a mother-in-law problem, Harry. You have a wife problem. The little girl is hanging on to mommy's skirts. It's your job to give her enough emotional support so that she won't need to cling to Mom so desperately.

Tell your wife that you want to enjoy a second honeymoon this summer. If you use this approach, instead of embarking on a campaign to "leave the old girl at home," you'll do better.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Mrs. L. L. Flanders

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

Miss Betty J. Greinert, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Greinert, 614 N. Union street, became the bride of Lawrence L. Flanders, 6154 Fifth street, in a double ring ceremony at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at First Methodist church, Neenah. The Rev. Clarence Kelly officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Robert Greinert, and Miss Mary Jane Greinert, her sister, was honor attendant. Miss Mary C. Effinger, Milwaukee, was bridal aid and Miss Diane Frahm was flower girl.

Donald Deira, Neenah, was best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Flanders, Oshkosh, Iowa, and Paul Hugen, Chicago, was groomsmen. James McLeod, Milwaukee, cousin of the bride, and Paul Trinkle, Bussey, Iowa, ushered.

The Menasha hotel was setting for the buffet after the ceremony.

The newlyweds will reside at 6154 Fifth street in Menasha when they return from a Michigan wedding trip.

The former Miss Greinert is a graduate of Appleton High school and Neenah-Menasha School of Nursing. She is employed at Theda Clark hospital. Her husband graduated from Bussey High school and is working at the George Banta Publishing company.

Start With Low Trump In This Hand

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The normal way to set up a suit is to lead the high cards first. After you have finished with the high cards, the low cards come into their own. In the play of the trump suit, especially there are important exceptions to this method of play.

You are declarer at a contract of four spades. West leads the jack of hearts, and it's up to you to show what you're made of.

If you're made of sawdust, you'll win the first trick, cash the ace of trumps and then lead a low trump. This will enable the opponents to knock the stuffing out of you.

West takes the second trump trick and promptly cashes another high trump. This leaves only one trump in the dummy and one trump in your own hand. You win tricks with those two trumps in addition to the earlier trump trick taken by the ace—a total of only three trump tricks.

Just add up your tricks: six high cards in the side suits and three trump tricks. This leaves you one trick short.

Lead Low Trump

The correct way to handle the trumps is to lead a low trump first. Win the first heart trick in either hand and just lead a low trump from one hand, playing a low trump from the other hand. The idea is to give up the first trump to the opponents.

No matter what is returned, you can win and draw just one further round of trumps with the ace. This leaves nobody in position to draw a third round of trumps.

And this is the whole idea. You want to draw exactly two rounds of trumps before you proceed with the rest of the play. You want to make sure that nobody can draw a third trump.

The rest is easy. You cash your high cards in the side suits and cross-ruff. That is, you ruff clubs in the dummy and diamonds in your own hand. It's a cinch to make 10 tricks this way.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens the bidding with one club, and the next player passes. You hold: S-K Q 10, H-J 10 9 7, D-7 4, C-Q J 9 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. When possible, show a major suit in response to partner's opening bid of one in a minor. This is usually more valuable than a raise in partner's minor suit.

THE OLD PROVERB about "early to bed" should be taken literally with children. Lack of sufficient sleep may be the answer to an apparently unrelated problem.

Sleeping late in the morning is only partial compensation, and it makes school mornings difficult. Be sure your child's mattress is a firm one, to make his sleeping hours do him the most good.

SEAMS TO ME New Trick For Jackets

By Patricia Scott

Recently a friend of mine asked me to help her choose a fur jacket from an exclusive shop in New York. For the first 15 minutes I sat quietly while she tried on jacket after jacket giving my opinion but occasion all y. Pat Scott Finally, however, I weakened. I have a mad passion for Russian broadtail jackets and the inevitable happened — I asked to see a few. With each one I tried on, I told myself I didn't like it, thus easing the pain since I couldn't afford one anyway. Then I saw one that dreams are made of — not in style, which was basic, but in versatility. It had a button gimmick that was too unique to believe, yet unbelievably simple. Eyelets were made where the buttons would normally be and the shank of a button was merely slipped through the eyelet and clipped in place on the wrong side with a metal clasp, allowing you to change buttons in minutes. It had matching fur buttons, horn, braid and finally magnificent jeweled ones. The jacket could be worn to the office or the most formal affair and look as though it was custom made for each occasion. But there still remained the awful truth — my bank balance! So, I made a jacket in fake fur fabric simulating broadtail and I couldn't be happier if I had the original. For a similar jacket, choose any style you wish — the fab-

Slippers, at Home Shoes Have Wide Color Variety

New York — The woman who "slips into something more comfortable" at the end of a long day will have an almost unlimited choice of lavishly designed, brilliantly hued slippers and "at home" shoes this spring. A sparkling collection of pumps, sandals and mules in luxurious leathers, elegantly beaded and jeweled, was unveiled recently. Also shown was a broad selection of casual slippers in softly smooth, grained and suede leather. The most exotic slippers owe their styling to classic Oriental designs with turned up toes, brilliant colors and glove-soft leathers. Sleek and slim, high-heeled pumps of brilliant scarlet, warm coral or soft lilac in smooth, crushed or suede leathers will lend color to a svelte tunic-and-slacks ensemble. Yellow tulip or sky blue mules will match the delicate mood of spring negligees. The most brilliant "at home" shoes this season will reflect gold and silver leathers. Thong sandals, employing the natural tan of leather, add color as an accent. Occasionally, gold rings or ornaments highlight the sandal. At other times the color interest is supplied by braided multicolored leather straps. Casual slippers—the bed-to-breakfast variety—are also tapered and trim of shape. Flexible, glove-soft leather uppers and their light but sturdy leather soles offer a maximum of safety and support. For chill-chasing in the early spring mornings, there's nothing better than an ankle-high boot—slipper of lightweight leather.

'Gilbert and Sullivan' Provide Spring Fun

Two Church Organists Don Hats, Gee-Gaws To Produce Droll Humor, Marvelous Din

By Marguerite Schumann
A knave called Keeley and a varlet called Smith added to Appleton's vernal madness Saturday evening in Stansbury theater of the Lawrence college Music-Drama center, by pretending to be Sir William Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan.

They might have as accurately billed themselves as Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. For if the program notes are to be believed (and if after a mid-jot fellows working over some of the drollest material in the world: the intellectual wisecracks of Gilbert and Sullivan's operettas; Elegant Martinet) Keeley is an elegant martinet, whose drawing room baritone is given a gelid air by the paralyzing disdain with which he views the world around him. Mentally he wears a lorgnette, although actually his vision is corrected with a perfectly ordinary pair of horn-rimmed spectacles.

Smith is a sulky Peter Lorre, who played the straight man, most of the accompaniments and emitted wondrous peacock noises from his side of the pair of grinds.

Keeley persecutes, Smith with relentless pleasure — on the subject of Smith's plumpness ("think of those miles of capillaries," he jeers); on the subject of the lively inaccuracy of his piano accompaniments ("you have lost my place," he frosts); on the anonymity of his rum-tiddy tunes (Smith - Sullivan retorts with a fragment of "The Lost Chord").

Share Hats, Not Views
Name the subject — Keeley-Gilbert and Smith-Sullivan are sure to hold opposing views, which they will freely air in public.

What they do share is a pianoful of hats, twin clothes racks full of gladsome Victorian get-ups, and a deep affection for the witty words and witty music they have taken for their own. (Side re-

Pretends He's State Agent, Fined $40

Richard D. Anderson, 35, of 408 Racine street, Menasha, has admitted in municipal court that he impersonated a state beverage agent and was fined $40.

Anderson entered a rural tavern April 14 and told the bartender, Irene Erickson, that he was a state agent. He asked to see the women's rest room and wanted to inspect the premises, she said. She called county police, who reported that Anderson had been drinking.

mark: they have also taken as their own some boff lines from the routines of that 20th century pair of English comedians, Flanders and Swann, but imitation is supposed to be the most sincere form of flattery.)

The hats and gee-gaws may have heightened the visual illusion of a Mikado, a pirate of Penzance or a gondolier, but the basic fun lay in the men themselves — both of them whacking the keyboards with furious gusto, both bawling out fusillades of polysyllables. Keeley did most of the singing, and Smith most of the playing, but they were no less effective when they swapped roles. When they both did both at the same time, the din was marvelous.

Two Sing Trio
They romped through parts of "Yeomen of the Guard," "Trial by Jury," "The Pirates of Penzance," "Patience," "The Mikado," "Rudigore," "Iolanthe," "Pinafore" and "The Gondoliers." They were not at all deterred by the necessity for a female voice here and there, or when two voices had to spread themselves thin between a trio. Keeley just clapped an outrageous sunbonnet on his head and soared off into falsetto. Smith scuttled about the stage like a wind-up toy, and at one time penetrated to the first row to serenade a lady in what must have been a thoroughly unnerving manner.

It was fine springtime entertainment, and the Outagamie county Democratic party was responsible for the fun.

Says Africa Will be Powerful Voice in U.N.

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Lake — The new, independent African states will be an increasingly important factor in United Nations decisions on aid to underdeveloped countries and colonial rule, an assembly of college students was told Saturday night.

Sir Andrew Cohen, United Kingdom representative on the U.N. trusteeship council, predicted that within the next few years as many as 24 African states would have a voice in the United Nations.

This would make the African bloc the largest in the U.N., Cohen said. The African voice is "already most coherent," he added. At present there are nine African states represented in the U.N. By the end of 1960 there will be 16, Cohen explained.

Form Majority Bloc
Cohen spoke to 60 students and faculty members from nine midwest colleges who participated in a 4-day conference on Africa and the United States.

Cohen said the voice of the African countries would be received with sympathy by the western world.

He pointed out that when the African vote is added to that of other nations who are opposed to colonialism and who consider themselves underdeveloped, there will be a majority bloc of votes for increased U.N. aid and against colonialism.

Cohen added that although the African countries will have considerable influence, the influence should not be feared. As the African states increase in number, they will assume a more and more responsible place in world affairs, Cohen stated.

British Colonialism
At present, he said, the issue of African independence has been settled in the great-er part of the continent, and in those countries Africans will make their own decisions.

Other countries no longer have a voice in African political affairs. "If they try, Africa will resent it and Britain will resent it."

"Britain will object," Cohen smiled, "because it's like barking up a tree that already has been largely cut down."

The colonial problems that remain in Africa are nearly all racial ones, he said. "As long as these are in existence, they weaken the West's moral position."

Aid to Africa
Africa has a great need for outside economic aid, Cohen said, but the African states must be allowed to make their own arrangements about accepting it.

No more than 10 per cent of it is likely to come from the United Nations, he pointed out, although nations of ten prefer U.N. aid because there are no political strings attached.

He said he would like to see more U.S. and British backing of the U.N. civil service plan that provides top administrative personnel for new countries.

He also suggested a multinational organization that would cooperate with new African countries in providing economic aid.

All nations will benefit, Cohen said, by financial assistance to the African countries that would enable them to expand their role in world trade.

Nelson Tells Voting Views To Sen. Wiley

Sees More Value In Informed Than Indifferent Public

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson said today he saw more value in informed voters wanting to vote than in uninformed or indifferent voters turning out in big numbers.

The chief executive made the statement in a letter to U.S. Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), who asked Nelson to record his views on a Wiley-sponsored resolution to designate a national Voters' day. The resolution is designed to stimulate voter participation in local, state and national elections.

"I shall answer frankly and I mean no disrespect when I say that I do not believe there is any special advantage to our system of government in turning out a large vote," Nelson wrote.

"I do not believe that democracy gains when uninformed or indifferent voters are driven sheeplike to the polls," he added.

Nelson said he did not question sincerity of those who participate in "get out the vote" drives but believes that the effort is misdirected.

The governor called the right to vote "a precious right" — not a duty. A citizen, he added, is free to pass up his voting privilege.

When people want to vote and are interested in candidates and issues, Nelson said, they turn out. He noted Wisconsin's record turnout in the presidential primary earlier this month as an example.

H. Seidel, 76, who died after a heart attack at her home there Tuesday. She was born Feb. 1, 1884, at Northport.

Services were conducted at the Dugan Funeral home, Fond du Lac, by the Rev. Charles Damp, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in the Rienzi Memorial mausoleum, Fond du Lac.

Survivors include three brothers, Enos Straub, Green Bay; John Straub, Superior; and Arthur Straub, Northport.

$1 Billion Annual U. S. Aid Sought for Africa

Student Group Feels $20 Million Figure Too Low

Green Lake — A $1 billion annual U.S. appropriation for aid to Africa has been suggested in a summary report by students who participated in a 4-day conference on Africa and the United States here.

The students said they felt the $20 million currently suggested for the African Development fund is woefully inadequate to achieve a standard of living in Africa which would support stable, democratic governments.

The aid was part of a program for U.S.-African relations which came out of a joint meeting Sunday of the 45 students and 20 faculty members from nine midwestern colleges.

Final Suggestions
Many of the final suggestions were identical to those made in a summary of Saturday sessions on the role of the U.S. in Africa.

In its final report, however, the group agreed the U.S. should study the implications of boycotts, governmental or private, against South African exports.

They also suggested the U.S. take the initiative in investigating the revoking of the mandate which the Union of South Africa exercises over Southwest Africa. The policy of South Africa in regard to the other state should be censured in the U.N., the group thought.

They also suggested using U.S. agricultural surpluses to develop the African economic situation.

God Is Hidden In True Religion

Speaker Says God Known Only Through His Son

How to know the hidden God—the creator and the incomprehensible—was the philosophical problem Dr. Carl Michelson, professor of systematic theology at Drew university, Madison, N. J., explored Sunday night at First Congregational church.

The lecturer opened the second annual series of post-Easter lectures sponsored by the church.

Dr. Michelson will speak tonight on "Man's Alienation and Reconciliation," to be followed Tuesday and Wednesday nights by talks on "How to Love Your Neighbor" and "The Meaning of History."

A Hidden God
Quoting the French philosopher Pascal, Dr. Michelson said a religion which doesn't believe that God is hidden is not a true religion. The understanding that God is hidden is corroborated by common sense, despite the disadvantage to the professing or professional Christian who represents a reality that is hidden he added.

Knowing God
"What is important in life is not who you know, but who knows you," Dr. Michelson said. "The important thing is to know that God knows us, allowing ourselves to be the subject of His knowledge. All our knowledge of God is negative knowledge, analogous knowledge, not because we are so ignorant, but because He is so profound."

Dr. Michelson said it is unsafe to know God in any way, except in the person of His Son, Jesus of Nazareth.

To know God in the person of His Son—"this is knowledge under conditions of faith," Dr. Michelson said.

14, 15-Year-Olds Admit Two Car Thefts

A 14-year-old and his 15-year-old companion have admitted to Appleton police they stole two cars Wednesday, one from Appleton Memorial hospital's parking lot, the other from Valley Fair shopping center.

Neither of the cars was damaged, although the one stolen from the hospital parking lot was mired in mud about five blocks away and had to be towed out. Both car owners left the keys in the ignition.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps is a prolonged deficiency of calcium.

When muscle constantly deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNAL-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNAL-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNAL-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker—bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles.

Pleasant-to-take DYNAL-CAL Tablets with calcium, glutamic acid hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering from muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNAL-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

These cramps for muscle cramps are not a disease, but a symptom of calcium deficiency.

Fire Sweeps Rest Home; Smoke Suffocates Patient

One patient down a fire ladder from a rear window. Although there was no panic among the patients, Harris said the rescues made by so many people prevented an accurate count and before Chief Schroeder's routine search it was thought all patients were safe.

Taken to Hospitals

Eleven of the patients were taken by ambulance to Waupaca Memorial hospital and 16 to the Grand Army home infirmary in King. Two of the patients returned to their family's homes. None appeared to have suffered any ill effects.

The fire apparently started in the attic. The hottest blaze developed there and the door to the attic stairs was destroyed. The blaze filled the second floor with almost impenetrable smoke. Water damage was extensive in the rest of the home. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

Sunday morning the main floor was still awash with water and in the kitchen the trays prepared for the breakfast that was never served were stained with soot-blackened water.

Aid from King

The King volunteer fire department assisted Waupaca firemen Saturday night. Other out-of-city personnel included Weyauwega Police Chief Ken Thompson and Loran Frazer and Lyle McCully of the county patrol. Sheriff Ray Abrahamson and Undersheriff Jack Algiers also assisted.

Mrs. Harris led a semi-ambulatory patient, Mrs. Arthur Nelson, out of the smoke-filled second floor.

The Harris took over operation of the home five years ago. An addition at the rear of the original home was completed two years ago and a concrete block wing was finished 18 months ago.

Harris Sunday said it was too early for him to make plans for the future.

Vaughan was born March 26, 1877, in Nova Scotia. He was a retired Portage county farmer and had been a patient at the home since July.

Funeral services will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Holy Funeral home with the Rev. Harris A. Stuermer, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the Rev. A. A. Eytzen, pastor of the First Assembly of God church, in charge. Burial will be in the First Belmont cemetery, town of Belmont, Portage county.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Chester Vedner, Weyauwega; three sons, Cecil, Scandinavia, Aber, Iola, and Lee, Milwaukee; four brothers, Bernard, Almond, and Bert, Aber and Nelson, Nelson, all in Nova Scotia; 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Sam Vaughan, 83, Awaited Death in this chair in his room of the Riverview Nursing home, Waupaca, Saturday night. It is believed Vaughan napped in his chair after supper and was suffocated without waking as smoke filled the home from a blaze in the attic. His body was discovered during a routine search by Waupaca Fire Chief Phillip Schroeder after 29 other patients were evacuated.

Smoke Billowed From the Fire in the attic of the Riverview Nursing home, Waupaca, Saturday night, as volunteer firemen from Waupaca and King fought the blaze. Some 300 spectators were attracted to the scene on the south city limits.

Weekend One Of Damaging Rains, Heat

Cool, cloudy weather covered all of Wisconsin today after a weekend of damaging rains in the north and summer-like heat in the south.

The Fox Cities had the start of a typical spring Sunday. Then thundershowers and clouds took over early in the afternoon.

Heavy rain sent rivers over their banks in the far northern part of the state. Hundreds of families were forced to evacuate their homes as Ashland, Iron and Bayfield counties were declared disaster areas.

During much of Sunday the state was sharply divided by an imaginary line from Green Bay to the Minneapolis area. North of that line temperatures were cool and skies were cloudy with occasional light rain. To the south, skies were or some new classification to afford relief to certain classes of taxpayers.

The so-called blue ribbon commission has not yet taken a final position but it has indicated that it will ask for the elimination of the personal property tax as it now applies to merchants and manufacturers' stock inventories and farm livestock, for a reduction of about $55 million a year from the $75 million a year now yielded by the tax.

No Commitments
The governor, as before, appeared reluctant to make position commitments on tax policy, and said he would examine thoroughly any recommendations of the commission and will oppose any of those he feels are unwise or unjust.

The commission had discussed the possibility of municipal sales and income taxes and local automotive taxes at the option of local governments.

When a reporter told Nelson there is a popular impression that the commission is going to devise a tax reduction program, the governor said the problem is one of revision and that with the growth of governmental costs all taxpayers can expect to pay more tax dollars in the

See $20 Million Increase in UW Operating Costs

Madison — A $20 million increase within the next five years in the operating costs of the University of Wisconsin and the state college system was forecast Saturday by a special committee of the Wisconsin Coordinating committee for higher education.

The staff assigned to the study project said anticipated boosts in enrollment and costs showed the university's operating costs will be about $37,000,000 for the 1960-61 fiscal year but will rise to $50 million for 1964-65, a hike of $12,300,000.

Estimated operating expenses for the state colleges during 1959-61 amount to about $11 million. The figure is expected to reach $19,300,000 in 1964-65, an increase of $8,300,000.

One-quarter of the total costs for operating the university and state colleges is paid by the students in tuition and other fees.

The challenge is to work out a fair distribution of the tax load, he said.

Commission Stalled
The tax study commission lately has been stalled, and has been criticized in some quarters. Republicans have said that one reason for delay is Nelson's desire to defer the report until after the fall elections.

Nelson today acknowledged that he planned for an earlier report when he named the study group a year ago but he said that it has encountered more complications than anyone could have anticipated.

Two Weekend Burglaries Investigated

Appleton police are investigating two weekend burglaries.

Thieves took a cash register and the $10.00 it contained from John Moriarity's filling station, 2214 S. Oneida street. Entry was gained through a rear window after the burglars failed to get into the station through the women's rest room.

Burglars cut out the screen on a rear window at the Quaker Dairy store, 1326 N. Meade street, but apparently took nothing, police said.

Holznecht New WJPG Manager

Green Bay — A. B. Turnbull, publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, today announced the appointment of Glen R. Holznecht as station manager of radio station WJPG.

Holznecht succeeds the late John M. Walter who died last Dec. 21.

A native of Green Bay, Holznecht, 42, joined the sales staff of the Green Bay Press-Gazette in May, 1935.

Holznecht served the station as sales manager since 1946 when he moved from the newspaper into radio. His new position will place him in charge of 23 employees.

Backing From Drive, Car Strikes Boy, 3

Curtis Hassell, 31-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hassell, 1434 E. Gunn street, received head bruises when he was hit by a car driven by William J. Martin, 38, of 117 S. Walter avenue, as Martin backed from his driveway Saturday afternoon.

Cars driven by Annabell R. Jesse, 39, of 1823 N. Ullman street, and Arthur W. Bolsen, 42, route 1, Fremont, collided at Richmond street and Wisconsin avenue shortly before 6 a.m. Sunday. Both drivers told police the traffic signal was in their favor and Mrs. Jesse's car skidded 32 feet before the impact.

Automobile Hits Trailer Stopped for Ambulance

Waupaca — A rush trip to the hospital from Weyauwega was the occasion of an accident at Churchill street and Riverside drive about 11:30 a.m. Saturday, police said.

The Bauer ambulance was rushing Elmer Hank Luther to Community Memorial hospital after Luther collapsed with a heart attack while raking his lawn.

As the ambulance turned left onto Riverside drive Leander Osheim, 42, Milwaukee, driving a car pulling a trailer going south, stopped sharply to avoid hitting the ambulance. Herbert Steinwand, 54, Colby, following Osheim, could not stop in time and rammed the trailer.

Seven Injured In Auto Crash

Car Hits Pole
When Sideswiped
By Passing Vehicle

Chilton — A sideswipe accident at 1:10 a.m., Sunday, on Highway 114 about 1 1/2 miles west of Sherwood, sent seven persons to Theda Clark hospital, Neenah, for treatment of injuries.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Richard G. Vandehey, 19, of 309 N. John street, Kimberly, was passing one driven by Francis A. Salm, 48, route 1, Neenah.

Salm's car crashed head-on into a utility pole after the passing. The Vandehey car skidded broadside into another pole, county police said.

Injured in addition to the drivers were Mrs. Francis Salm, 45; Leslie Patton, 51, of 1442 Main street, Neenah; Mrs. Leslie Patton, 46, and Mrs. Anthony J. Winters, 48, route 1, Neenah, passengers in the Salm car and Gene Vander Velden, 19, of 114 N. Main street, Kimberly, a passenger in the Vandehey vehicle. They were taken to the hospital by Larry's ambulance.

Salm was pinned in his car 25 minutes before being freed by attendants and police.

Leslie Patton was reported in good condition with a dislocated hip. Hospital officials said all other victims were in good condition today.

Author to Speak
Ellis W. Whiting, a former high school teacher and author of the book "Story of Life," will speak to the Twin Villows school Parent-Teacher association at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Whiting's topic will be "What Every Boy and Girl Should Know." The public has been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Livingston are co-chairman for the meeting.

Downpour of 1.31 Inches Floods Twin City Streets

Children Enjoy Boating, Wading;
Adults Report Sewer Backups

Neenah — Neenah streets took on a Venetian appearance as Sunday afternoon's torrential downpour of 1.31 inches flooded streets, causing sewer backups into basements in scattered parts of the city.

Heaviest hit was the Sixth ward area again and the section from the Chicago and North Western crossing at S. Commercial street east to Chestnut street.

Also flooded was E. Wisconsin avenue near Oak street, Henry street from Douglas street to Meade street, Oak street and Quarry lane and other streets around town.

About eight Menasha basements in the Keyes street-Willow lane area received water, Mayor John Klein said this morning. Street workers pumped the surcharged Keyes street sanitary sewer, which could not take the water. No calls came from Edgewater drive or the area near Clovis-Grove school, earlier trouble spots.

Galloway Company, the former Neenah Milk Products company, received considerable damage from water which flooded its basement. Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran church got a crew of congregation members busy soon after the storm abated, taking pots, pans and food out of low kitchen cupboards so they would not be damaged or dirtied as after the Christmas week backup of sewers.

The water in the church boiler room was from 1 1/2 to 2 feet deep and several inches of water and sludge covered the basement floor of the church. Part of the basement is used for one of the parochial school classes and the textbooks, workbooks and other school equipment also were moved to higher levels.

Neenah firemen reported 30 telephone calls in a period of several hours, starting shortly after 3 p.m., and many other home owners had trouble at their homes.

Several sewer lift stations were reported to have been made inoperative by the cloudburst which sent too much water for the pumps to handle.

The fire department had its old pumper truck taking water from the sanitary sewer.

Banta to Receive Honorary Degree

Menasha — George Banta, Jr., will receive an honorary doctor of letters degree from Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., the school his grandfather, David D. Banta, attended.

The elder Banta walked from Fairfield, Iowa, to Franklin to enroll in an undergraduate program. He later earned a law degree and served as dean of the University of Indiana law school from 1889 to 1896. Before that he was an Indiana circuit judge and member of the university board of trustees.

Girl Falls 25 Feet From Upstairs Window

Neenah — The condition of Pamela Wilz, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilz, 135 Tyler street, was described as good today after she fell about 25 feet from a second story window at her home about 6:15 p.m. Sunday.

She had opened the inside window and leaned out through the gap between the storm window, which was ex-

Youth Loses License For Failing to Heed Stop Sign

Neenah — William R. Merkle, 16, 513 Chatham court, had his driver's license suspended for 30 days after he pleaded guilty Saturday before Police Justice E. P. Arpin of failing to stop for the arterial at E. Cecil and Congress streets on April 17.

Joseph L. Van Stippen, 17, route 2, Menasha, pleaded innocent of driving after his license had been suspended and trial was set for 10 a.m. on May 9. He was arrested April 16 and his license had been suspended for a year in June of 1959.

Martin J. Beaumont, 48, 1128 W. Winnebago street, Appleton, forfeited $14.20 for speeding 44 miles an hour on Cecil street. His son, James, 18, is to appear next Saturday on the same charge. They were arrested April 15.

"Row, Row, Row Your Boat, gently down the street..." and some Neenah youngsters did that as Sunday's 1.31 inch downpour was more than the sewers could handle and water flooded many areas in both Neenah and Menasha. The area on Henry street in Neenah where the youngsters were playing with the pram was up to 2 feet deep. Nicolet boulevard also was flooded from curb to curb with cars traveling cautiously. The youngsters enjoyed the rain but not so pleasant was the fact that many basements were flooded and sewage backed up into many buildings.

Financial secretary of St. Paul English Lutheran church and also belonged to Betty Rebeck.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at St. Paul's church with the Rev. Arthur R. Tingley and Rev. Samuel H. Roth in charge. Burial will be in Highland Memorial park at Appleton.

Friends may call at the Westgor Funeral home until 11 a.m. Tuesday and from noon until the hour of service at the church.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Janet and Barbara; and two sons, Michael and David, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lopus, Kaukauna; one brother, Lester Lopus, Kaukauna; and one sister, Mrs. Elroy Schroeder, Appleton.

Ziel Funeral

Menasha — Service for the angels was held at 11 a.m. Saturday at St. Thomas Episcopal church for Joseph Ziel, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Ziel, 713 Paris street. The service was conducted by the Rev. Thomas K. Chaffee, pastor, with the Kessler Funeral home in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery. The child died at birth Wednesday.

Survivors are the parents, two brothers, Edward and John; two sisters, Rebecca and Debra, all at home; and the grandparents, John DeBroka of route 1, Neenah, and Lawrence Ziel of Milwaukee.

Rubbish Collection

Neenah — Rubbish will be collected Wednesday in the First, Second, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh and Ninth wards. Non-burnable trash should be on the curbs by 7 a.m.

Galloway Loss in Flood Set at $10,000 Plus

Inventory, Records, Gear Damaged;
Miss 2 Shipments

Neenah — Sunday's downpour resulted in at least $10,000 of known damage to the Galloway company on S. Commercial street with many company's records lost, company officials said today.

Shipments to two Chicago milk firms could not be made because of the loss to both equipment and inventory, Richard Galloway, company vice president, said today.

One was to have been shipped 30,000 pounds of condensed milk, representing 100,000 pounds of whole milk, and the other was to have been shipped 45,000 pounds of fluid milk Sunday night.

This same thing happened two years ago and five years ago, he said, and he estimated the known loss of about $10,000 as conservative.

Pumps Fail

Water began coming in from the sanitary and storm sewers about 3:15 p.m. Sunday. The company's sump pumps were able to keep up with it first but the flow increased and the sump pumps "cooked out."

He said Mayor Bell came to the plant and secured additional pumps from the water department and fire department and about 5:30 p.m. the Kampos Transit company arrived with a truck and pump. The water rose to about four feet in the large room where the electrical panel board is located so power had to be cut off about 5:30 p.m. The dairy firm was without power until 8:30 p.m.

Without power, the firm lost all of its refrigeration and all of its steam. The liquid sugar is stored in the same room as the electrical supply and this also was lost.

Loss to Inventory

Galloway estimated a loss of about $3,000 in products not kept cool and about $1,500 to $2,000 of dry storage goods which were soaked by water.

Added to these costs is the rewiring and repair of its electrical equipment, which includes 10 large motors. Then too is the cleanup to remove all the silt and dirt which came in with the water.

The company is operating today at about 50 per cent capacity and does not know how soon it can be back at full operation.

Two 18-inch storm sewers serve the plant but the water was pouring back in through these faster than all of the pumps put into operation could handle.

Without the help of the city water department and fire department pumps and that of the Kampos Transit company, the damage would have been much worse, Galloway said. The extent of the loss to records stored in the office building basement was not known this morning.

Wife of Official At K-C Dies

Mrs. W. H. Swanson
Community Affairs

Menasha — Mrs. Walter H. Swanson, 63, wife of a Kimberly-Clark corporation vice president and active in Neenah-Menasha community chest of which she was the services chairman, the Cancer society, the Civic Music association of which she was a charter member, the Women's Tuesday club of Neenah and in the work of St. Thomas Episcopal church.

Born Dec. 10, 1896, in Janesville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stokley Hutchinson, Lucille Hutchinson married Walter Swanson Nov. 26, 1920.

They came to the Twin Cities in 1927 from Camden, N.C., where Mr. Swanson had been associated with the Champion Paper company. Prior to that they had lived in Madison where Mr. Swanson worked at the United States Forest Products laboratory.

Funeral Pending

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Westgor Funeral home, awaiting arrival of her son from Japan. Services will be at St. Thomas church with the Rev. Thomas K. Chaffee in charge. Burial will be in Janesville. Contributions toward a memorial fund will be for cancer or heart research groups or for St. Thomas church memorial fund.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas K. Wilson of Battle Creek, Mich.; one son, First Lt. Stokley W. Swanson, with the United States Air Force in Japan, and one granddaughter.

Orientation of New Neenah Teachers Set

Program May 14 Planned for Those Beginning in Fall

Neenah — An orientation program for new teachers who will be joining the school system next fall has been scheduled for Saturday, May 14.

Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes will open the program at 10 a.m. with a discussion on the school's philosophy, organization, teacher welfare and board of education. At 10:45 the teachers will divide according to elementary and high school groups.

Miss Mary Willis, elementary supervisor, will speak on the courses of study, special services, school policy, what is taught and the books used. Prin. H. O. Borgen will tell the new high school teachers about class scheduling, high school procedure and the accounting for the pupils.

At the noon luncheon, hostesses will be provided for each teacher by the AAUW chapter. This will be followed by a tour of the schools and then time for the new teachers to go over the list of available rooms or apartments and to contact those having such facilities for rent.

Persons who would like to

Eight of 586 Found in TB Classification

Menasha — Eight persons of 586 X-rayed last month were found in the tuberculosis classification group, Miss Alice Dillon, city nurse, reported Friday.

Those eight persons were referred to their physicians for further examination and diagnosis.

Another 59 were referred because of other chest or heart conditions discovered in their X-ray photographs. Further X-rays were recommended for 23 persons.

A tuberculin testing program will begin in Menasha public and parochial schools as soon as a schedule can be made, Miss Dillon said.

Students in grades 1, 4, 7 and 11 who present signed permit slips from their parents will receive the tests in standard dosages.

Those showing raised, red-denied areas on their arms will be further checked, since the reaction indicates the person has been exposed and the tuberculosis bacilli have entered their bodies. Chest X-rays will be recommended for them.

Local physicians will give the tests. Miss Dillon is in charge of St. Mary school and Miss Lillian Lyon, school nurse, will be in charge of other schools.

Persons who would like to have their rooms or apartments listed for teachers should contact Miss Mildred Hanson at Parkway 2-8161 to record their names.

The Eagle Scout Award was presented Sunday to James Kettenhofen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kettenhofen, by Boy Scout Troops 55 of St. Patrick church. His award was pinned on him by his mother at a court of honor in the church hall Sunday night.

Take All Math Possible, Dean Advises Students

Oshkosh — Take as much mathematics in high school as possible, Dr. Raymond J. Ramsden, dean of instruction at Oshkosh State college, today advised boys who will enter high school in the fall with dreams of becoming graduate engineers.

Two units of algebra, one of plane geometry, a half unit of trigonometry and a half unit of solid or analytic geometry are recommended, or the substantial equivalent of these courses.

"A student entering an engineering course must be prepared to face heavy class loads," Dr. Ramsden said, "which means there is little if any time to try to compensate for mathematics courses missed in high school. To try to succeed without them is almost an impossibility."

At present some 50 students from Northeastern Wisconsin are enrolled in pre-engineering courses at Oshkosh State

At Neenah Library Five Years With Bedouin Nomads Told in New Book

Neenah — For five years Wilfred Thesiger lived with the fierce Bedouin nomads of Arabia and tells about this life and their customs in his book "Desert Sands" which has been added to the Neenah Public library collection.

In the book he tells also of a hard and hazardous journey across the unknown "Empty Quarter" of the desert.

"The History of Baseball" by Allison Danzig contains almost everything a baseball fan could ask about, such as

In his novel "Night Without End," Alistair MacLean tells the story of scientists marooned in an underground hut at the top of the Greenland ice cap and the dangerous intrusion of a strange group of people, survivors of an airliner which had crashed mysteriously in the Arctic wasteland.

John Harris has produced a novel of high adventure, "Sunset at Sheba" which is set in the South African Transvaal and revolves around a simple political maneuver that turned into a desperate manhunt.

Other new novels which can be borrowed from the Neenah Public library are "Pillar of Salt" by Seymour Epstein, "The Dedicated" by Willa Gibbs, "Grandpa and the Girls" by Louis Heyward, "The Hiding Place" by Robert Shaw, "The Violent Bear Is Away" by Flannery O'Connor, "Storm the Last Rampart" by David Taylor, "Trask" by Don Berry and Alfred Hitchcock's "My Favorite in Suspense."

Menasha — Non-burnable waste materials will be collected Wednesday in district 2, between Chute and Third streets. Rubbish must be at curbs by 7 a.m.

Treasurer Pays $111,800 To Townships

Settles With Rural Districts for Taxes Owed by Residents

Oshkosh — County Treasurer Earl E. Fuller this week sent out checks totaling $111,841 to the various townships, village of Winneconne and city of Omro to settle in full the amount due them on their taxes.

Treasurers of those districts settled with the county the amounts collected by them for state and county taxes. The balance of the money owed in taxes by residents is to be paid to the county treasurer.

Checks returned to the towns included: Town of Clayton, $6,017 in school levies and $2,920 in town levies for a total of $8,937; town of Menasha, $6,990 in school levies and $741.60 in special assessments for a total of $7,731; town of Neenah, $6,400 in school levies and $118.15 in special assessments for a total of $6,516;

Town of Vinland, $10,804 in school levies, $966 in town levies and $29.82 in special assessments for a total of $11,800; town of Winchester, $2,510 in school levies, $592 in town levies and $415 in special assessments for a total of $3,517; town of Winneconne, $7,631 in school levies and $1,283 in town levies for an $8,914 total; town of Wolf River, $2,835 in school levies, $348 in town levies and $41 in special assessments for a total of $3,224; and village of Winneconne, $7,791 in school levies, $4,354 in town levies and $10 in special assessments for a total of $12,155.

The total returned for school levies was $95,098; for town levies was $15,260 and for special assessments was $1,463.

College Choir To Give Concert

Oshkosh — The Oshkosh State college choir will present its annual spring concert at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the college's Little theater.

Dr. Stanley Linton, director, said the concert will include works of Leisring, Loti, Handel, Borowski, Berger, Barber, Paulene, and Harris. Several students will sing solo parts during the concert, including Karen Daehn, Oshkosh; David Koeppe and Gary Gerhart, Chilton; Eugene DuFrane, Fond du Lac; Thomas McCain, Oshkosh; and Marilyn Schroeder, Oshkosh.

Boys' Brigade to Wind Up Program

Neenah — The Boys' Brigade will wind up its activities this week with the leaders counseling with the boys in their groups, advising them how they did in various activities and how they can improve themselves. Awards night has been set for May 16.

Policemen of The Fox Cities

David L. Kolasinski, 30, of 720 Sixth street, Menasha, joined the Menasha police force Jan. 20, 1954. He became a squad car driver July 8, 1959. Kolasinski is married and has one daughter and three sons.

He served in the army in 1948-49, stationed in Massachusetts and Kentucky. Golfing, hunting, fishing and softball playing are his hobbies.

12-Year Old Menasha Boy Bitten by Dog

Menasha — Duane Krueger, 12, of 812 DePerre street, was treated at Theda Clark hospital after he was bitten on the ankle by a dog while riding his bicycle north on Manitowish street at 6 p.m. Saturday. The dog was owned by Leo Breeding, 905 Manitowish street, Menasha. Breeding called a physician and took the boy to the hospital. He was advised to keep his dog summer on a leash.

Name Jensen To Head County Breeder Group

Oshkosh-Winneconne county Holstein breeders association elected officers and outlined summer activities Tuesday evening. Officers are Louis Jensen, president; Lyle Beck, vice president; Phil Grundy, secretary; O. G. McSchooler, Omro, treasurer; Phil Lautenbach, Fremont; and Arden Winkenwerder, Neenah, directors.

A Holstein breeders "twilight meeting" was tentatively set for June 9. Lyle Beck and O. G. McSchooler will select a farm for this event.

Directors will cooperate with Holstein breeders of the Fox valley in staging a black and white show to be held July 18 at Winneconne county fairgrounds. Blue ribbon winning entries at the show will compete in a statewide black and white show July 21 at the fairgrounds.

Directors voted to contribute after he was bitten on the ankle by a dog while riding his bicycle north on Manitowish street at 6 p.m. Saturday. The dog was owned by Leo Breeding, 905 Manitowish street, Menasha. Breeding called a physician and took the boy to the hospital. He was advised to keep his dog summer on a leash.

Both Squads Register 1-0 League Marks

Menasha—Neenah and Menasha, both of which sport unbeaten baseball records, collide at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the Menasha ball park in a Mid-Eastern conference tangle.

Coach Carl Steffin's Bluejays have two straight victories while Joe Braun's Rockets hold a win and a tie. Both clubs were successful in their league openers. Menasha over Kaukauna 11-5 and Neenah 8-7 over New London.

Bluejays Best Sheboygan 7-0 For Third Win

Cop All Matches In Straight Sets; Face Neenah Next

Menasha — Menasha's netters captured their third straight shutout win, blanking Sheboygan Central 7-0 at Sheboygan Saturday morning.

The Bluejays won all of their matches in straight sets and in only three of the 14 sets did they need more than six games to win.

Jim Stenson, at No. 1, bested Mark Mahnke 6-1, 6-1 while at the No. 2 position, Tom Krysiak turned back Dennis Krzyak 6-1, 6-3.

Other singles winners were Fred Holenbeck over Mike Gluniock 6-1, 6-4; Dan Artt over Mark Wilfer 6-0, 6-1; and John Bertram over Jerry Tyrolt 7-5, 6-3.

In doubles, Stenson and Bill Ritchie won over Mahnke and Wilfer 6-2, 6-1 and Krysiak and Holenbeck bested Browne and Gluniock 12-10, 7-5.

In exhibition play, freshman John Conway defeated Gary Henne 6-3, 7-5 and lost to Steve Boelschal 6-3, 12-10 and Ritchie won over Ron Scheele 6-2, 6-4; Artt and Bertram downed Tyrolt and Phil Rogers 6-3, 6-3 in an exhibition doubles match.

The Bluejays will be idle until May 3 when they meet Neenah, which will be their stiffest test to date.

Manitowoc Collects 3-2, 4-1 League Wins Over St. Mary '9'

Deciding Run Forced Home In Ninth Inning of Opener

FOX VALLEY CONFERENCE
Manitowoc 3, St. Mary 2-1
Oshkosh 4, St. Mary 1-0
Saturday Results:
Manitowoc 2-4, St. Mary 2-1.

Manitowoc — Manitowoc edged St. Mary 3-2 and 4-1 in a Fox River conference doubleheader here Saturday afternoon.

The losses were the third and fourth in conference play for the Zephyrs and all of their defeats were by three runs or less.

The first contest went nine innings with the Shipbuilders scoring the winning run on a walk with the bases loaded.

Bob Jensen, who was forced to pitch when Tom Hanson came up with a sore arm, went all the way for the Menashans. On seeing his first mound action of the season, Jensen only yielded five hits.

Smith Spears Point Honors On Mac Squad

Menasha Cagers Close Schedule With 25-10 Mark

Menasha — Jerry Smith was the leading scorer on the Menasha Mac basketball team this past season according to statistics compiled by Jerry Heiss, coach and president of the athletic association.

Dick Rohe was next with 556 points in 32 games. Other totals included "Skip" Schuerer 522 in 32 games, Ray Swiechowski 325 in 34, Joe Kosiorek 313 in 31, Pete Burghardt 292 in 35, John Chapleau 286 in 26, Bob Felix 84 in 24 and Bob Hodkiewicz 27 in 18.

The Menashans concluded their season with a 25-10 record. They won the first round championship in the Eastern Wisconsin Amateur league, lost the second in a playoff and then were beaten in the second and third games in the best two of three game playoff against New Holstein. They reached the finals of the Kaukauna tournament.

The annual basketball banquet will be held May 28 at the Viking at Winchester.

Five Coaches Apply For St. Mary Post

Menasha — St. Mary has had five applicants for the football coaching position vacated by the recent resignation of Vince Ste. Marie, according to the Rev. Donald Stoebauer, athletic director. Four were from state residents and one came from out of state, Father Stoebauer said.

The athletic director also reported that the tennis match at Sheboygan North has been rescheduled for next Monday. It was to have been played May 16 but was reset because of the athletic dinner that day.

NHS Tennis Squad Takes On Shawano

Neenah — Neenah guns for its third straight tennis win when it entertains Shawano in a Mid-Eastern conference match Tuesday afternoon.

In starts this spring, the Rockets have turned back Kimberly in conference play and own a non-league verdict over Appleton. They've won all 10 of their singles and four doubles matches.

Shawano, which doesn't have any returning lettermen, bowed to Menasha 7-0 in its only league encounter. The Rockets blanked their league foe 7-0 in both of last year's get togethers.

Menashans Own 7-5 Advantage in Conference Play

Menasha — The baseball teams representing Neenah and Menasha will collide for the 19th time when they get together Tuesday afternoon at the Menasha ball park.

They've met 12 times in Mid-Eastern conference play and the Bluejays have come out on top on seven occasions to the Rockets' five. The Menashans were the winners in five of the six district tournament meetings.

The intercity rivals met for the first time in 1949 and the Bluejays swept to 8-2 and 5-1 wins. It was the Rockets' first year of baseball and the fourth for Menasha.

Neenah scored a 5-3 triumph in the 1950 league meeting but Menasha avenged the setback 8-0 in the district tournament as Tom Kosloski authored a no-hitter.

Menasha's 1951 nine took a 25-0 win and it capped 13-2 in the tournament. The Bluejays won 19-7 in 1952, 10-7 in 1953, and 8-2 in 1954 before the Rockets broke the monopoly by copping the 1955 game 7-6.

The Rockets finished on top 3-2 in '56 and 2-0 in '57 and Menasha won the 1958 encounter 5-3. Don Jensen belted a 3-run homer and pitched a shutout in Neenah's 3-0 triumph last season.

Other Bluejay tournament wins were 17-5 in 1953, 5-1 in 1955 and 2-1 in 1957. Neenah won 2-1 in 1956. Last year the Rockets were assigned to the Fond du Lac tournament and Menasha was sent to Weyauwega. Both will compete in a Menasha district this spring.

Lakeroad Men's Team Wins Over Oshkosh

Neenah — Lakeroad Lanes downed the Raulf alleys of Oshkosh 2,948 to 2,789 in a match game here over the weekend. Ted Drucks rolled a 657 series; Arnie Zuelke had 622, "Rock" Monty 617 and "Busky" Nygren 534 for Lakeroad.

A Lakeroad women's team lost to Shop-O-Gram of Oshkosh 2,464 to 2,340 on total pins but won two of three games in another match. Viv Hilger bowled 204-520 for Lakeroad and Alice Otto posted 558 and Jackie Groff 550 for the Oshkosh team.

Karnopp Jolts 664 in Menasha Men's Loop

Fellner Cracks 236 Single for Share of Honors

Menasha — Willie Karnopp of the Valley Coffee Shop honors to Wally Fellner of team belted a 664 series to pace the Menasha Men's Bowling league in its final night of action Friday at the Mid-Town alleys.

Karnopp was above 200 in all of his games with a high of 226. He yielded singleton honors to Wally Fellner of Mihm's Charcoal Grill, who fired a 236 loner.

Other 600-plus totals included "Bugs" Moran 625, Ben Stepanski 606, Gib Nabbedfeld 604 and Lyle Mueller 603. Mueller had a 234 game. Stepanski hit 233 and Moran posted 228.

Other honor totals included Roger Peterson 595 and Jack Hablewitz, Larry Pontow, Al Bengal and Bob Slack 555. Hablewitz bowled a 232 loner.

Valley Coffee Shop won the championship by 74 games over Wettengel's, posting a 594-301 record.

Other final marks included Wettengel's 52-38, Club Terrace 51-39, Cozy Bar 46-44, church and in the area near Trader's and Mihm's Charcoal Grill 431-461, Avalon Bar 421-471, Club Tavern 42-48 and Mint Bar 38-51.

Ground Frozen

Because there still is considerable frost in the ground, the water could penetrate only to the frost, the excess flooding streets and basements.

One party on Henry street, where the water was from house to house on opposite sides of the street, said the water in their basement was not so much the sewer backing up but water just coming right in through the walls.

Street crews worked all night to reduce the flooding as much as possible and all pumps still were in operation this morning. One resident in the 900 block on Reddin avenue called in about 10:15 this morning to say the sewer was hours after the end of the beginning to back up again storm while Oak street south and needed a pump. No of Washington avenue was pumps were available at the still covered with water as time at the city garage.

Conference Set

Mayor Bell said this morning that he has contacted the Jerry Donohue Engineering company of Sheboygan, which has been making the sewer getting out boats for rides on the Christmas weekend down the street. Many of the flooding of homes. A representative of that firm is to meet with city officials this afternoon for a conference on water-covered street to see how big a spray they could make.

Several calls were received about oil in the sewer back-ups in the Hoover school area. Several months ago an underground completed looked like ground pipe leading into the small swimming pools.

Cy Van Vreede Wins Toro Mower Award for 4th Year

Cy Van Vreede, owner of Menasha Hardware, 4 Tayco street; Menasha, is shown above receiving an award certificate from Gerald St. George, sales representative for Toro Mowers. The award was given recently and is in recognition of the hard work store selling 75 or more Toro units in 1959. Cy cordially invites area people to come in and inspect the new Toro models for 1960, now on display. Toro is "the machine that bags the grass" and has many other outstanding features including a chute and leaf mulcher attachment. There are no extras to buy as it is a complete yard machine. People can compare the features with any other and see why it is truly a bargain in quality and performance. Prices start from $89.95.

Board Makes Relief, Health Appointments

Resident Seeks Information on Trailer Ordinance

Winneconne — Appointment of various commissioners and committees were made at the reorganization meeting of the village board Friday night. B. H. Bockin and Ernest Glasshoff were seated on the board. Bockin was elected and Glasshoff reelected at the April election.

Kenneth Wisnek appeared before the board requesting information on the legality of the trailer court ordinance. This was referred to the planning committee.

The Winneconne News was named official newspaper and the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Omro, Winneconne station, was named the village repository.

Dr. W. T. Disch was reappointed relief commissioner; Dr. Donald MacDonald was appointed health commissioner.

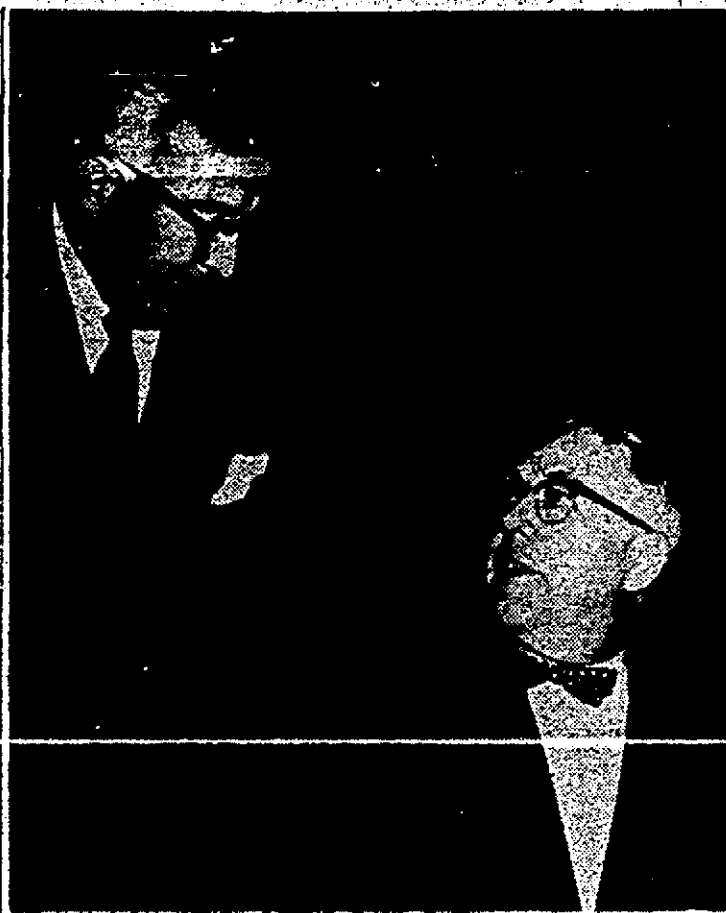

Reappointed to the planning committee were: Walter Freund; Thomas Hendry and Clarence Wine. Weed commissioner is Edward Ehlike.

The board moved to pay $35 reparation fee to the railroad for an easement crossing under the tracks. Edward Ehlike gave a report on the water and sewer operations.

The board voted $99.50 to send 12 safety patrol youngsters on a trip to Wisconsin Dells May 18-19.

Pirates Beat Braves, Take Over NL Lead

Complete Sweep of Series, 7-3

Pittsburgh —(AP)— The Milwaukee Braves were idle today, but their minds undoubtedly were busy as they considered their fifth-place position, three games off the pace.

"We'll start winning," said Manager Chuck Dressen Sunday after the Braves had been saddled with their third straight loss, a 7-3 defeat by the Pittsburgh Pirates who climbed into the National league lead with the victory.

"When we get home," Dressen added, "we'll be ready for the San Francisco bunch. That's the club to beat."

Offers No Alibi

Dressen offered no alibi for his team's 4-5 record, but added, "Don't forget the other clubs have got to hit here, too, to win." But the facts are the Braves didn't hit when it counted. In the 3-game series here, the Braves collected only six extra-base hits.

They got three in their Sunday game, all in a ninth-inning rally which fell short.

But in the ninth, Joe Adcock opened with a double ahead of a walk for Mel Roach. Johnny Logan's double scored Adcock and Roach came home on Del Crandall's long fly. A double by pinch-hitter Mike Krsnich scored Logan.

That was enough for Haddix and on came Pittsburgh relief ace Elroy Face who ended the game by striking out the pinch-batting Charley Lau and getting Red Schoendienst on a grounder.

Giggie Hurlis

The victory went to Haddix, who is now 1-1 for the season. Bob Buhl, who started and lasted six innings was

Neenah's Thomsen Twirls 8-Hitter For Losers

St. Norbert's Green Knights shaded Lawrence, 5-4, Saturday afternoon in a non-conference season-opening baseball game in Green Bay.

The triumph was the second in two starts by one run for St. Norbert. Lawrence Coach Don Boya plans to start Karl Franke at Oshkosh State Tuesday in the Vikings' second start.

A 3-run St. Norbert fifth inning broke up a 2-2 tie game. The Vikes kept chipping away and had several opportunities to tie in the late innings.

Appleton's Dennis Verbrick, the starter, went six innings to pick up the win. He allowed three runs on five hits, walked three and struck out one. Freshman Paul Schwemin, also a lefty, allowed one run on three hits and three walks, in relief.

Neenah's Dave Thomsen went the route for the losers, hurling an 8-hitter. The sophomore right-hander struck out two and walked five, most of them in the early innings.

Rick Ramsey doubled and singled for the Vikes while Charlie Scroggs singled twice.

The Vikings cut the score to 5-3 in the sixth and made it 5-4 in the seventh. In the latter frame Ramsey and Scroggs singled and Ken Haeberle walked to load the bases.

Ramsey scored on a passed ball. Jim Schulze was walked intentionally and then, when Krueger flied to right, Scroggs was thrown out at the plate.

Thomsen hit into a double play in the eighth, after Lawrence had runners on first and second with one out.

In the Viking ninth Haeberle doubled after two were out. Then, as St. Norbert tried to walk Schulze again, Jim reached out and hit a line drive to the right fielder to end the game.

'Booster Button' Meeting Called By the Foxes

The Fox Cities Foxes will hold a "booster button" campaign meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Columbus club.

Fathers of Little league and Babe Ruth league players are being requested to attend. The LL has been helping sell the opening-day booster buttons as well as season tickets. Ray McClone and Frank Briske will represent the Foxes directors at the meeting.

McClone, announces that four live, baby foxes have been secured by the club. The animals will be given away to fans at some of the early games at Goodland field.

Cards Register Fourth Straight Win; Phils Divide Doubleheader

By the Associated Press

"They can't write us off. We were only three games out on the first of September."

Everybody smiled and looked wise when Danny Murtaugh, the Pittsburgh manager, boldly stated his case in March at Ft. Myers, Fla.

Murtaugh's analysis looks solid at this early stage of the National league race. The season is only two weeks old but his Pirates are riding in first place.

The Pirates sneaked into the lead Sunday by knocking off Milwaukee, 7-3, while the San Francisco Giants were losing to the Chicago Cubs, 9-4. It was Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory and its eighth in 11 starts.

Elston Wins

The Giants had a 4-2 lead going to the eighth when Billy O'Dell was replaced by Billy Loes. When the inning was over the Cubs had seven

Soos Pound Three Hurlers For 19 Hits, 21-2 Win In Three-I League Opener

Sioux City, Iowa — The Sioux City Soos jumped all over three Fox Cities Foxes pitchers here Sunday afternoon to crush the visitors, 21-2, in the Three-I league opener for both teams.

The Soos, stocked with four veterans of 3-I league play, pummeled John Papa, Dick Hunt and Jerry Alford for 19 hits, including nine doubles and a home run.

1,793 Fans Watch

A crowd of 1,793 watched the Soos hand the Foxes their first season-opening loss in three years. It was the first 3-I league game ever played by Baltimore-owned talent. In their previous two years of league play, the Foxes were affiliated with Washington.

Tonight, Foxes Manager Earl Weaver will send "Buster" Narum to the mound. His opponent will be Dario Segui.

Right-hander Dave Thies, who played with the Soos last year, pitched a steady 7-hitter yesterday, striking out eight and walking only one.

Cedar Rapids' Stoico Pitches 2-Hit Game

By the Associated Press

The pitching of Bob Stoico featured the Three-I league Sunday as it got the 1960 campaign rolling.

The hitters held the upper hand everywhere but at Cedar Rapids, where Stoico delighted a crowd of 2,433 with a 2-hit, 9-2 conquest of Lincoln.

Stoico made only one mistake, serving a home run ball to Monte Bond with a man on in the fourth inning.

Football Variety

The other scores were of the football variety. Green Bay, last season's playoff champion, outslugged Des Moines, 15-11, in a 4-hour game that saw the losing Demons make nine errors. Eddie Reed drove in four Green Bay runs with a homer and single.

They staged a homer derby at Burlington, with the home team losing both the muscle duel and the game, 14-6, to Topeka. Eight homers were hit, five by Topeka. Marv Schultz had a grand-slam for the Kansans.

Sioux City romped past Fox Cities, 21-2.

AHS Thinlies Set for Test At Sheboygan

The Appleton High school track team will compete in a triangular meet at Urban field, Sheboygan Tuesday afternoon.

The other schools in the field will be Sheboygan North and Manitowish.

AHS placed second in a triangular with Fond du Lac and Neenah in its opening test last Friday.

North routed Green Bay East, 92-28, in its Friday opening. Manty fell, 69-49, to Oshkosh in its inaugural.

charged with the loss, his first against one victory. Bob Giggie pitched the last two innings, allowing two Pirate runs.

The Pirates started on the way to their fifth straight victory in the second as "Smoky" Burgess smacked his second home run, the first of two for Pittsburgh. Bob Skinner belted a 2-run home run in the fifth as the Pirates pushed over three runs. It was his fourth of the season.

Bill Mazeroski scored the third Pirates run in the fifth, running home after a triple on a fly by Haddix.

Mazeroski drove in the last three Pittsburgh runs. He sent one home in the sixth with a single and two in the eighth with a bases-loaded safety.

Tuesday, the Braves open a 2-game series with the Reds in Cincinnati.

but Leo Scerby hit safely at least once. Third baseman Joe Ala led the parade with a 5-for-5 day, including a double, two homers and four runs-batted-in.

The Soos went ahead to stay in the first. Dick Howser—playing his third season of 3-1 ball—singled and stole second. Spiers singled him in. Junior Reedy doubled to center for the second run. Chuck Bennett's sacrifice fly plated Reedy.

Thies scored on a Bob Sav-erine-to-John Powell double play. Ala's double scored the inning's third run.

The Soos finished off Hunt and started on Alford in a 5-run third. During the inning, they singled five times and got the benefit of two walks, an error and a wild pitch.

Ala's homer came in the fourth with one man aboard.
It was a drive over the right field scoreboard, about 330 feet away. The Soos added two, in the fifth, one in the seventh and five in the eighth.

The Foxes scored their first run in the seventh. Bert Barth walked. Chuck Johnson singled to short. Ray Youngdahl forced Johnson,
Barth taking third. Jim Carver's single scored Barth.

AHS Netters Win, 5-2, Over Indians

The Appleton High school tennis team was to meet Kimberly here this afternoon. The Terrors posted their first victory in three starts at Shawano
Friday, 5-2, after a pair of 7-0 losses at the hands of Neenah and Menasha.

The only Terror losers Friday were No. 1 Terry Schroeder, to Shawano's Robert Witt, 6-2, 3-6, 5-7, and John Wiley at the No. 2 doubles, 6-3, 6-4, to the Indians' Jim Liege and Gene Krajack.

Appleton visits Green Bay
East Tuesday.

SINGLES
Witt (S) beat Schroeder, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0, 6-0.
Liege-Krajack beat Wiley-Schroeder,

Record-Breaking Burleson Set for Three More Meets

Eugene, Ore. — Dyrol Burleson isn't going to let up after running an American record 3:58.6 mile here Saturday.

The 6-1, 156-pound University of Oregon sophomore will compete in three successive meets, against Washington State and Oregon State and in the West Coast relays at Fresno, Calif., May 14.

It is the Fresno affair for which Burleson is pointing.

The 19-year-old's victory over Stanford's fine runner, Ernie Cunliffe, Saturday climaxed a career that started four years ago when he ran a 5:04 mile in an interclass meet at Cottage Grove, Ore., High school.

Cunliffe turned in a 4:00.4, Saturday only to be passed in the stretch by the long-striding Oregonian.

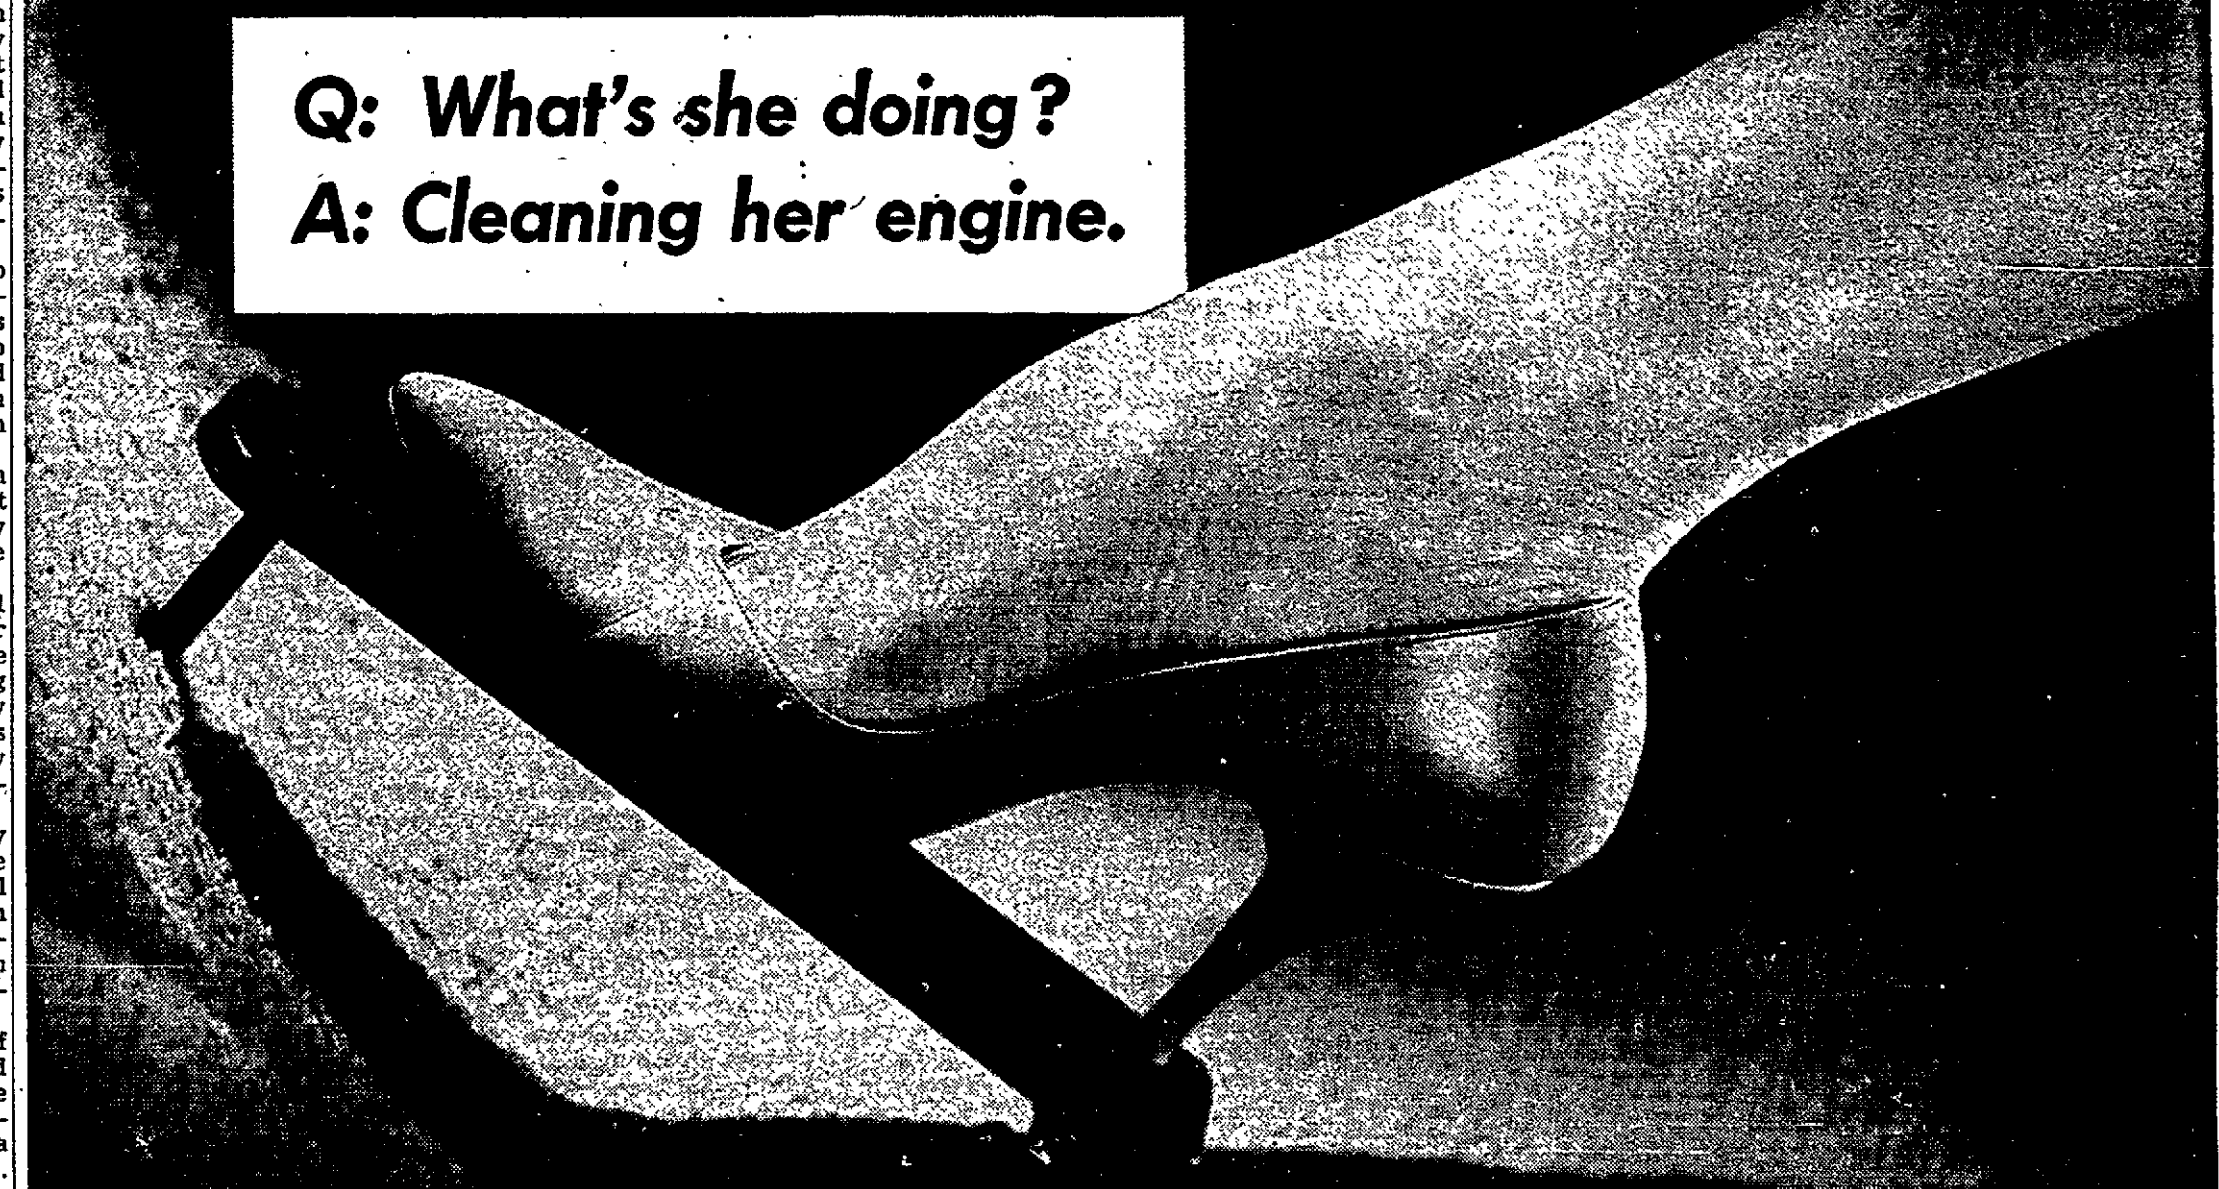

The old American record was 3:58.7 set by Don Bowden of California in June, 1957.

There is a possibility that Herb Elliott of Australia, holder of the world record of 3:54.5, will run in the Fresno mile.

Q: What's she doing?
A: Cleaning her engine.

To cut gasoline costs,
Engineers say, "Clean up your engine."
Skelly says:

"Why not do it every day ... just by driving"

EVERY mile you drive with many gasolines, your engine gets dirtier, dirtier, dirtier. Carbon and lead deposits build up on cylinder heads, pistons, rings, valves and spark plugs. You lose power. Mileage goes down. Gasoline costs go up. Your engine may start to "ping," to "run rough," or become hard to start.

Engineers know the answer to these problems. They say, "Clean up your engine." And with Skelly Keotane Gasoline, you can do it every day—just by driving.

How Keotane works: Carbon and lead deposits steal power and rob you of mileage. Keotane "un-glues" carbon and lead deposits, as you drive, by dissolving the gum that binds them. The more you drive, the more you clean. Because the use of Keotane is a development of Skelly Research, no other oil company has it. Skelly's use of Keotane is covered by U. S. Patent No. 2878109.

Keotane "Un-glues" Carbon and Lead

Keotane gets rid of carbon and lead deposits by dissolving the gum that binds them. Every mile you drive with Keotane, your engine gets cleaner, cleaner, cleaner. And the cleaner it is, the more it runs like a new engine.

Tests show that a Keotane-Clean engine can deliver an average of 12.7% more mileage, 14.6% more horsepower output and the performance effect of 3.1 additional octane points. Engineers estimate that these and other benefits of Keotane add up to 6.1c extra value per gallon—at no extra cost per gallon to you.

This extra value that Keotane gives you over any other gasoline is why we believe that Keotane is the most economical gasoline for any car—including the "compacts."

How Fast Does Keotane Work?

Carbon and lead deposits that have "baked on" for months or years can't be "un-glued" overnight. Highway driving gets results fastest. Around-town or stop-and-go driving takes a little longer. But the more you drive, the more you clean.

For best results, keep your car on Keotane for at least 3,000 miles. Remember, every mile you drive with Keotane, you're doing exactly what engineers recommend to cut gasoline costs. You're cleaning your engine. And you're doing it the easiest possible way—just by driving.

So see your Skelly dealer. Fill up with Keotane. Clean up your engine—and keep it clean—just by driving!

Drive Your Carburetor Clean With New Skelly Regular Gasoline:

Keotane Cleans Carburetors, Too

The place where many people first notice Keotane's cleaning effect is in the carburetor. As Keotane dissolves gum, you may notice your engine idling faster. You may want to have your carburetor re-set to take advantage of its new efficiency.

Liston-Harris Bout Shown In Milwaukee

4 Live Matches Will Also be Offered on Card

Milwaukee — There's a boxing show in the Milwaukee arena tonight, but no one will be watching the ring at main bout time.

Instead, all eyes will be on a giant screen—for a closed circuit telecast of the heavy-weight scrap between Sonny Liston and Roy Harris in Houston, Texas.

It will mark the first test of closed circuit TV boxing supported by "live" preliminaries in Wisconsin. Milwaukee is one of 10 cities in seven states lined up for the Liston-Harris bout.

Braggs vs. Gonzales

The undercard signed by the Wisconsin Boxing club consists of a pair of 6-rounders and two 4-rounders. Heading the "live" battling will be the Milwaukee lightweight Billy Braggs who risks a 10-bout unbeaten string against Andro Gonzales of Pittsburgh.

Unbeaten in 54 years, Liston, second-ranking challenger, goes after his twenty-second victory when he faces Harris, the No. 6 contender.

The 10-rounder at the Sam Houston coliseum will gross around $70,000.

This is the largest closed circuit hookup for a non-title fight.

Liston, a husky, 25-year-old now fighting out of Houston, is favored at 2-1 and odd odds. He has a 28-1 record, including 19 kayos. His only defeat was on an 8-round decision to Marty Marshall in 1954. Liston whipped Marshall twice in later meetings.

Harris, of Cut and Shoot, Tex., has a 30-1 record, including eight knockouts.

Oshkosh State Netters Win

Lawrence Cops 5 Division Titles In Quadrangular

Lawrence college won five of the nine division titles but finished second in a quadrangular tennis meet here Saturday.

Oshkosh won the meet with 12 points, Lawrence was second with 11, Stevens Point was third with four and St. Norbert didn't score. Oshkosh copped the four division crowns not won by Lawrence. A point was awarded for each match won.

The two teams had been tied, 7-7, after Friday's singles play and Lawrence had copped three singles titles to Oshkosh's two. The Titans' Bill Simon tripped Stevens Points' Tony Koehn of Neenah, 6-3, 6-4, in the No. 3 singles final—the only singles event played Saturday.

Lawrence captured both the No. 1 and No. 2 doubles. The Vikings' Dave Grant and Quentin Sharpe topped Oshkosh's Braeger Zeitler and Bill Simon in the finals, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, at No. 1.

Lawrence's Dick Lange and Dan Schuyler toppled Oshkosh's Fred Jungers, Jr., of Appleton and Freider, 6-0, 6-4, in the No. 2 final.

- Number 1 Grant-Sharpe (L) beat T. Koehn-Koeshall (SP), 6-1, 6-2.
- Zeitler-Simon (O) beat Mulroy-Howlett (SN), 6-1, 6-4.
- Grant-Sharpe beat Zeitler-Simon, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.
- Number 2 Lange-Schuyler (L) beat Lennin-Shepardson (SN), 6-0, 6-1.
- Jungers-Freider (O) beat Koeshall-J. Koehn (SP), 6-0, 6-4.
- Lange-Schuyler beat Jungers-Freider, 6-0, 6-4.
- Number 3 Norman-Green (O) beat Drew-Blackburn (L), 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

Michigan and Illini '9s' Share Lead

The Big Ten baseball race gets into full swing next weekend after Illinois and Michigan opened by winning two of three games each to share the conference lead.

Illinois, having lost to Michigan, 8-5, Friday, rebounded Saturday and defeated Michigan State, 2-1 and 15-1. Purdue lost to Michigan State, 9-2, Friday and then split a doubleheader with Michigan Saturday, winning the opener, 4-2, but dropping the nightcap, 5-2.

After struggling to a 1-run victory in the first game, Illinois banged out 19 hits in the 7-inning second game. Ethan Blakely led the attack with a home run, two triples and a single.

Jack Helmscamp hurled a 5-hitter for Purdue against Michigan, but the Wolverines got even in the second game behind the 5-hit pitching of Dennis McGinn.

Every team in the league will be engaged in conference play next weekend with single games scheduled Friday and doubleheaders Saturday.

Louise Suggs Shoots Record 281 at Dallas

Dallas — Louise Suggs, the smooth swinger from Atlanta, showed them Sunday how a champion should finish a golf tournament.

She had seen a 5-stroke lead melt to one when she double-bogeyed the eleventh hole of the final round in the $10,000 Dallas Women's Open.

Then the defending champ pulled herself together and birdied four of the last seven holes to win the tournament by five strokes with a record 281 for 72 holes. She had a 1-under-par 70 on the final round over the rain-swept 6,238-yard Glen Lakes Country club course.

Mickey Wright from San Diego, also shot a closing 1-under-par 70 and finished second with 286.

Not only was Miss Suggs' 281 a record-bettering the 284 with which Miss Wright won the Dallas tournament in 1958 — but it was within two strokes of the all-time woman's record for 72 holes, Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Fla., set the record at St. Petersburg, Fla., in 1937.

Runnels to Undergo X-Rays of His Wrist
Washington — Boston infielder Pete Runnels will undergo an X-ray check today for a wrist injury he suffered when hit by a pitched ball. The mishap forced Runnels out of Sunday's Boston-Washington game in the eighth inning.

One of Three Double winners during Saturday's quadrangular track meet here was Lawrence college's Tad Pinkerton, who here is steaming home first in the half mile. Second is Ripon's Jim Tichy. Pinkerton also ran on the victorious Vike mile relay team as the hosts won the meet.

Dressen Says He's Not Worried, Feels Braves to Get Going Soon

Pittsburgh — The Milwaukee Braves are going to start winning soon, according to Manager Chuck Dressen who says, "I'm not worried."

Thus the confident Dressen spoke after his Braves were beaten, 7-3, Sunday by the Pittsburgh Pirates and dropped to fifth place. It was Milwaukee's third straight losing.

"We'll get going," said the confident Dressen. "Our pitching will get better. The hitters will be in the thick of things."

"I had a long talk with the players before the game. I told them to keep hustling — keep running and keep staying in there. We'll start rolling soon — when we get to Cincinnati."

2-Game Series

The Braves open a 2-game series with the Reds Tuesday. Play, more than position, bothered Dressen who was disturbed by a single lost in the first inning when the Braves

Vike Trackmen Win Meet

umphing in :51.7. Larry Schmitz of Oshkosh State was a narrow victor in the high hurdles.

Oshkosh State's Carl Schwab soared 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches to capture the high jump and the Titans' Larry Bruner dropped out after hitting 12-4 even to cop the pole vault.

The Redmen's Darrell Johnson won the broad jump (21 feet, 4 1/2 inches) and Oshkosh's Tom Pennewell the javelin (167 feet, 3 inches). After that even Ripon led Lawrence, 39, to 34, with three to go. But Ullwelling copped the low hurdles and Bob Buchanan finished third to move Lawrence ahead, 41-49.

When Simon and Stout came

Roach were easy outs.

"I didn't want Mathews to bunt," Dressen said. "I knew that if he did, they'd walk Aaron. That's why I've got my batting order set up that way. That inning would have made a big difference with those two guys hitting away."

Easy Way

But even if Mathews had gone out, Haddix would still have had to face Aaron. As it was the little left-hander disposed of the Braves' top hitters the easy way.

Another Dressen headache is left field where neither Al Spangler nor Mel Roach have measured up. So now a rookie will get a chance.

Dressen said that if the Reds start a left-hander, Mike Krsnich of West Allis will open in left. He won the chance with a run-scoring, pinch-hit double Sunday.

The series not only hurt the Braves in the standings, it damaged the batting averages of some of the players. Adcock arrived hitting .333 and by the end of things Sunday had slipped to .273.

Aaron, .320 going into the series, dropped to .306.

"I don't know what's wrong," Aaron said. Seems like I'm just missing by a split second. I'm either swinging over the top of the ball or popping up."

Despite Bad Start, Richards Will Stick With Young Orioles

New York — Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, undaunted by his team's five defeats in its first six games, said today he was more determined than ever to stick with his fledgling Orioles.

"I've got to go with the kids regardless of what our fans might think," Richards said on the heels of a 15-9 lacing by New York Sunday. It was the Yankees' third straight over his charges.

"This is the kind of team that needs a manager's patience and I might add, courage," he said. "It is young and inexperienced but home 1-2 in the 2-mile it was Lawrence 49, Ripon 41, and the Vikes had won no matter how the relay (on a point basis of 5-3-2) came out. Reylemen Chuck Collins, Traver Pinkerton and Bond each added some to Lawrence's eventual 50-yard winning margin.

Lawrence had five starts, including the relay, Ripon and Oshkosh won four apiece, and Stevens Point took two.

Ripon's great Dick Celichowski was hampered by a pulled groin muscle and picked up just a third in the 100 and second in the broad jump.

Committee Members Named For Golf Season at Fox Valley

Kaukauna — Committee appointments for the coming year at the Fox Valley Golf club have been announced by Ray Morgan, club president, in conjunction with the "tee-off dance" which opened the season Saturday night.

Members have been playing the course for about a week with Lou Glaser, club pro, permitting play on the top holes only as a few of the Greens are still wet and play could damage turf. Players are to check with the pro before starting on the course to ascertain which holes are playable.

Named head of the clubhouse committee was Ray Schwanke, assisted by Ray Morgan, Jerry Van Abel and Vic Haen. Les Forde heads the golf committee assisted by Francis Demerath, Floyd Stegeman, Emil Koglin, Russ Torgeson, Monroe Schneider, Grover Patterson and Norbert Schmidt.

Other Committees — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minkebeige and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boots have charge of

Hearing Set to Abandon Street

Property Exchange With Machine Firm Will be Discussed

Kaukauna — A public hearing will be held at 7 p.m., May 17, in the council chambers on the proposal to amend the official city map to discontinue Ducharme street between the south line of Hyland avenue and the north right of way line of the Chicago and North Western Railway company.

Ducharme street is being abandoned at the request of Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool company. In exchange the machine firm will deed land to the city for the proposed extension of Tobaccoir street from Lincoln avenue to Hyland avenue.

James McFadden, Joseph Gossens, Joseph Versteegen and Hal Lindell. The annual stag opener which is the first full golf day is scheduled for May 7.

The firm will pay for grading and graveling of the property deeded to the city to make it suitable for road purposes. Estimated cost of this work has been listed at $3,000. The roadway to be abandoned is adjacent to the firm, is a dead end street and little used except for traffic to and from the firm.

The city planning commission has viewed the proposed property and advocated the transfer to the council.

Cancer Movies Set for Women

Wednesday Shows Offered Free as Educating Program

Kaukauna — A special free movie, for women only, on cancer will be shown at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Rialto theater under the sponsorship of the American Cancer society.

The movies will be shown at Appleton Tuesday and are entitled, "Time and Two Women," and "The Other City." No solicitations will be made on behalf of the cancer drive at the theater since the

Open House Set Thursday

Kaukauna — Open house at Outagamie County Teachers college will be held Thursday with invitations mailed to high schools from throughout the area asking prospective students to visit the school and view facilities.

Students may pick up two years of college credits at the institution or receive a teaching permit which entitles them to teach in state graded schools.

Adults interested in the college are also welcome as the event is not limited to potential students, according to S. W. Ihlenfeldt, college president. Visitors will attend practice classes and view a special program after dinner.

Doctors will be present to answer specific questions of women. The showing is open to women from Little Chute, Kimberly and Combined Locks as well as Kaukauna, according to Mrs. John Russo and Mrs. H. F. McAndrews, co-chairmen of the cancer crusade in Kaukauna.

Envelopes for donations are currently being passed from neighbor to neighbor throughout the community and the drive is expected to be completed early in May, according to the co-chairmen.

'Kennedy Crisis' Grips Democrats

All Factions of Party Agree
On Him for Vice Presidency

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The supreme political fact of today is an ever-sharpening "Kennedy crisis" which is gripping the whole Democratic party below the surface.

Never have circumstances so peculiarly and so powerfully focused on a single man.

Sen. John F. Kennedy runs himself for the presidential nomination. But he is being run for the vice presidential nomination by all the rival forces which hope to stop him for the big job.

View of Urgency
There is one view of unexampled urgency and unanimity within all factions of the party: Kennedy must accept the second place if the first turns out to be beyond his grasp.

So, if this drive for the top nomination should falter—say by a poor showing in the current savage West Virginia primary "popularity contest"—he will be under almost unbelievable pressures to accept the vice presidential designation from the Democratic national convention. Supporters of his rivals for the presidency are the first to say this.

Kennedy himself has declared repeatedly that for him it must be the top spot or no spot at all. Men all over the Democratic party will stop at almost nothing to persuade him or to force him to reverse this decision, if he fails for the first place.

Religious Issue Bitter
For the belief is now general among the Democratic professionals that "the religious issue" has become so embittered that a ticket wholly excluding Kennedy would invite election-day disaster. It is now also undeniably possible that a ticket having his name at the top might be very dangerous, too.

Practically speaking, it does not matter much "who started it." The overwhelmingly plain fact is this: inside and outside the state, the West Virginia primary election of May 10 is going to be treated by millions simply as a contest between a "Catholic," Kennedy, and a "Protestant" rival for the presidential nomination, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Kennedy himself has now acknowledged the passionate existence of an "issue" he never wanted. He is openly denouncing the theory that a man's religion is any proper test of his capacity for public office.

Sides Blame Each Other
Angry men on Humphrey's side claim in private that Kennedy has solicited backing simply as a Catholic. Angry men on the Kennedy side claim in private that some Humphrey people are deliberately inflaming anti-Catholicism. I do not believe either for one moment. I have excellent reasons to be sure that neither Kennedy nor Humphrey has willingly raised this business.

I am equally convinced, however—as would be any man writing for publication who reads his own mail—that the so-called "religious issue" is an enormous fact of life, deeply regrettable though it is. So convinced, too, is nearly every competent politician in the national Democratic party. Thus an extraordinary dilemma confronts them all, on the unhappily likely assumption that religious differences will be more and more rubbed up as the pre-convention campaign goes on.

Kennedy for Vice President
In these circumstances a Democratic convention rejection of Kennedy for the presidency might offend great groups of Catholics. An acceptance of him for the presidency might be used by many who are anti-Catholic, or who oppose having a Catholic president, as an argument to go Republican.

But the most dangerous thing of all would be for the convention to wind up with Kennedy nowhere on the ticket. If he should adamantly refuse the vice presidency it would be taken to reflect his own belief that he had been unfairly treated because he is a Catholic. But if he should accept it the "religious issue" might be largely neutralized, since there is no evidence of any deep feeling against a Catholic for vice president.

This, at any rate, will be the argument hurled ceaselessly at Kennedy from every side of his party. It will require a not detect a 100 kiloton nuclear blast set off in an underground cavern.

Report Minor Epidemic of Measles in Wisconsin

CARL N. NEUPERT, M. D., State Health Officer, in comparison with other years, it should provide no cause for alarm. Such minor epidemics occur regularly every two or three years, and we can even expect the present heavy prevalence of the disease to continue during April and May before tapering off in June.

May Be Serious
Red measles is a highly contagious virus disease whose early symptoms are much the same as those of the common cold. These usually include a fever and inflamed eyes, followed by a rash on the face and neck, and a cough. The rash spreads over the body in about three days, after which the symptoms rapidly disappear.

The disease itself is not as mild as German measles, and young children, especially those under five, often are seriously affected. Measles at any age, moreover, can result in such complications as pneumonia, eye and ear infections, and even encephalitis.

Dear Mr. Arthur:

The Appleton Post-Crescent is to be congratulated on the "Country Life" tabloid that you are now publishing. It is terrific!

Outagamie Equity Co-op Exchange last week used a full page advertisement in the tabloid on April 8, 1960. Our results were almost unbelievable. Every item in the advertisement attracted customers to our store. We sold out on rakes, shovels, step ladders and baskets. I have never seen such wonderful results and my people in the store were equally amazed.

We attribute the success of our Spring Gardening specials to the fact that they were the right items, correctly priced, timed with the weather, and advertised in the Post-Crescent "Country Life" tabloid. Thanks are also due to Howard Rehfeldt, your salesman, who always keeps us advised on how to best advertise our wares.

Your new approach to suburban and farm families gives us a medium aimed directly at all our potential customers. It is our opportunity to offer our wares in the market place and to know our investment in advertising is correct. We thank you and wish you well on the new venture.

Gordially,

Second Payment Due Saturday on Real Estate Tax

The second installment of Appleton real estate taxes is due Saturday, Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein reminded taxpayers today.

His office will have special hours Friday and Saturday to facilitate last-minute collections. Friday hours are 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., straight through the noon hour. Saturday, when all city hall offices usually are closed, the treasurer's office will be open from 9 a. m. to noon.

Regular office hours are 9 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Feuerstein said that if the second installment is not paid by Saturday the entire balance of a tax bill becomes delinquent. Interest charged on the delinquent balance is eight-tenths of 1 per cent per month, retroactive to Jan. 1.

The third and final installment is due July 31. About 80 per cent of this year's taxes have been paid, $4,058,930 out of a total $5,056,637, Feuerstein said. This leaves about $97,696 to be collected by July 31.

The treasurer said 70 per cent of the bills have been paid in full.

Stocks Take Sharp Drop

Steels, Motors, Rails Prominent In Day's Decline

New York — The stock market declined sharply in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to more than a point.

Steels, motors, rails, utilities, electronics and electrical equipment issues were prominent in the decline.

The market was generally lower at the start in slow trading. As prices weakened, selling accelerated and volume increased.

Brokers said weekend news was not encouraging. Hand-mouth buying of steel, a squeeze on profit margins and the disappointing nature of many first quarter earnings dampened sentiment.

The rise of the consumer price index to a record in March and an advance in the price of copper futures were items on the bullish side.

Ford Drops

A drop of about 3 points in Ford paced the decline of auto stocks. Chrysler and General Motors were off about a point.

Florida Land Sold In 'Supermarkets'

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Miami Beach — Only a couple of years ago, Joseph L. Morse, editor in chief of Funk & Wagnall's Encyclopedia, would have laughed off a proposition that he dispose of his carefully selected holdings of Florida land at anything except fat profits. He was an independent operator, confident that on his own he could make his shrewd speculations in big pieces of land in this state of fabulous boom pay off.

Last week, Morse formally turned over all his land to a newly formed giant corporation, Major Realty, in return for bonds and shares of stock in the company. He has joined 880 other individuals who have put properties estimated at $25 million into a unique "supermarket" created specifically to sell off the properties scientifically to builders. The obvious bet of Morse and the other individuals is that they'll make more by owning shares in a large real estate corporation than by trying under today's increasingly tough competitive conditions in Florida to sell their own tracts of land profitably.

What the 880 did last week symbolizes the opening of a new era in the development of this modern frontier state. Era of Wholesalers It will be an era in which great areas of still undeveloped Florida land will be "wholesaled" to builders by giant organizations. It will be an era in which the independent boom-or-bust "retail" speculator in land will fade into the background. Hopefully, it will be an era in which the land organizations will contribute to a more stable, sounder growth of the state by offering informed guidance on everything from location to financing to those who will be building Florida's future industrial and commercial centers, cities and suburbs.

To a native New Yorker, a frontier state has almost a hypnotic fascination. Just since World War II — 15 years — Florida has roared through transitions that in most areas would take a half-century.

First — in the mid-40s — came the speculators in pure land, big and small. They broke up the large tracts, sold off blocks at profits ranging to colossal percentages. Their era was one of fabulous gambling and what planning or building they did was hazardous.

Build Communities Then — in the mid-50s — came the great building companies set up to create whole communities out of swamps and land. In this group belong such nationally-famous corporations as General Development, Arvida, Lefcourt. Their era has been (and is) one of actual building of residential and industrial centers, and they have helped spur an immense migration, particularly of older citizens, to Florida.

Now — in the early-60s — come the land "wholesalers," organizations whose sole purpose is to gather up land from individuals and syndicates, to consolidate the properties into "supermarkets," then to sell off the land for building purposes. If Major Realty is an indication of the future, as top Florida planners think it is, some of the state's leading names will be consolidating their land holdings into corporations which in turn will manage sales to developers. (Among those putting big cash into Major Realty are George Friedland, director of Food Fair stores, Nathan Cummings, chairman of Consolidated Food corporation, David Nemerov, former chairman of Russeks department store in New York.)

A Mound of Brightly-Wrapped presents awaited Outagamie County hospital patients who had birthdays in March when the Outagamie County Mental Health association sponsored a birthday party. Representatives of the association are Mrs. Horace Chaney, Appleton, left, chairman of the association hospital committee; and Mrs. C. L. Meyers, right.

Builders, Not Speculators As Major Realty's executive vice president, Milton Smith, put it when I interviewed him on the new corporation, "Florida's development now must be more efficiently planned and its builders must be given more guidance on engineering, financing, merchandising. This is where we come in. We're not speculators in land. We're not

ing. In the cycle now opening, the big-time operator will be obviously dominant and what he'll have above all else is: KNOWHOW. (Copyright, 1960)

Mississippi Children May Add State Pledge Of Allegiance to Work Jackson, Miss.—(U)—Mississippi school children may be required to add a state pledge of allegiance to their repertoire of memory work. The house passed a bill to require school children to make the dual pledge—to the national and state flags. The state pledge of allegiance would be: "I salute the flag of the state of Mississippi with pride in her history and achievements and with confidence in her future." The bill says a pledge need stems from the state love of constitutional government, the duty of people to remember its past, and the fact that the flag is "a symbol of patriotism, valor and sacrifices of early Mississippians."
